Arrest Made Of Negro at Assn. Center

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The national headquarters of a Negro group was raided by police inside the riot-torn section of North Philadelphia, where quiet reigned today after a weekend of looting and pillaging.

The four-square-mile area still was under tight security, with a 24-hour curfew in effect and more than 1,200 policemen on patrol.

Restrictions Remain

Mayor James H. J. Tate said the restrictions will remain in effect at least until Labor Day. In a statement late Monday night, the mayor said the area was "extremely quiet," with even less activity than normal. "I think we are out of the woods," he said, "but we are still watching the situation."

A squad of 100 policemen made the raid Monday upon Muhammad's African - Asian Cultural Center, two blocks from where the riots broke out late Friday night.

Weapons Found

Inspector Millard Meers, who led the raid, said police found flammable fluids used for making fire bombs, a loaded revolver, two bayonets and a knife. They arrested Shakyh Muhammad, described by Meers as a former member of the Black Muslims.

Muhammad was held in $10,000 bail on charges of violating the Uniform Firearms Act, possession of explosives and violating the mayor's proclamation to stay off the streets.

Lawyer Hits Bail

His attorney, Cecil B. Moore, president of the Philadelphia chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called the high bail a ransom and said the court had "succumbed to hysteria."

Muhammad, 33, came here from Greensboro, N.C. He has been arrested four times. Muhammad once described himself as a Muslim leader and also said he represented the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice.

The raids came amid reports that the North Philadelphia riots might have been planned. Mayor Tate said, "I believe

Plan of Pope Paul VI Interfaith Center For Jerusalem Area

By BENNETT M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI plans an interfaith center in Jerusalem to commemorate his historic meeting with Orthodox Patriarch Athenago-ras of Constantinople — Istanbul — in the Holy Land last January. In disclosing the proposal Monday night, a high Vatican source said Christians would join with non-Christians in religious studies at the center.

The project was seen as a major step toward Christian unity as well as improved relations between Christianity and other faiths.

Hesburgh to Head

The Pope has entrusted preparations for the center to the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind., the source said. Father Hesburgh also is the Vatican's permanent delegate to the International Atomic Energy Agency, now meeting in Geneva, and president of the International Federation of Catholic Universities.

Pope Paul received Father Hesburgh at a private audience at the Castel Gandolfo summer palace last weekend. With Father Hesburgh was Ignatius A. O'Shaughnessy, an industrialist from St. Paul, Minn. O'Shaughnessy is described as one of several Americans interested in supporting the Pope's personal project.

The center would be involved in research into the comparative doctrines of the major religions, with special focus on the scholars would take part.

Open to Scholars

"The idea is that it should be staffed not only by Roman Catholics but rather that there should be a certain openness to scholars of non-Christian faiths," the Vatican official said. The selection of Jerusalem adds significance to the proposal, since the ancient city is holy to Jews and Moslems as well as Christians.

The official did not know when the center would be started but he said the project was being undertaken on a priority basis.

Pope Paul's meeting with Athenagoras was the first personal encounter between the head of the Roman Catholic Church and an Orthodox patriarch in five centuries.

The unity movement so far has stressed encounters in which participants try to appreciate the similarities of their common belief in Christ, leaving differences momentarily aside.

88,000 Are Expected For Study Could Is Leader Of State System

ALBANY, N. Y. — The State University of New York, a statewide institution that is expecting 88,000 students this fall, had a president today for the first time in 20 months.

"I can't see why we can't be superior academically," Dr. Samuel B. Gould told reporters on his first day as president of the 59-unit university.

He said he felt the unit system, although criticized at times as being awkward, can produce a great state university.

Gould, formerly president of the Educational Broadcasting Corp. in New York City, was named to the $40,000-a-year post in June. The 53-year-old educator succeeds Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton, who left in January 1963.

Gould said he has four immediate goals for himself and the university — strengthening the university academically, spreading information about it, studying the staff organization and orienting himself to the sprawling network of schools.

Unit System Opportunity
The most important, he said, was to strengthen the university academically. "We can build on what we have now," he said.

"I see a great advantage in the unit system because all of the units remain reasonably small," Gould asserted. "We have a greater opportunity."

Gould said he was beginning to study the staff organization. But he hinted that a group might be formed to continually re-evaluate the operation of the university.

Gould was greeted by a letter from Gov. Rockefeller. The governor wrote: "You come to this post at a

Cooper Lake Now 8.5 Feet Below Spillway Crest

Cooper Lake, Kingston's main reservoir, has been depleted by approximately 2.4 inches since last Friday. Authorities reported today the reservoir was 8.5 feet below spillway level.

Although the figure is close to the supply level registered in the drought year of 1957, water department superintendent Edmund T. Cloonan stated that the situation so far is "not critical."

If the present drought continues, however, it could become a serious problem in the next two or three weeks, he added.

Wilson Gives Pledge to Main Ticket

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, in a communication to Robert I. Baron, chairman of the Ulster County for Goldwater-Miller Committee, pledged his "wholehearted support" to the efforts of the committee for the election of the Goldwater-Miller Republican ticket.

Immediately after the nomination of Senator Barry Goldwater at the state Democratic convention, Assemblyman Wilson announced that he would support the Goldwater-Miller ticket.

In his communication to Baron, who resides in Hurley, Assemblyman Wilson extends his best wishes to the Ulster County for Goldwater-Miller Committee, and pledges his support.

Praises Stand on Issues
"In recent elections citizens' groups such as yours have added greatly to many campaigns in this year, more than ever before. I honestly feel that the outstanding record of the National Republican candidates as well as their honest, courageous stand on vital issues facing our nation will enlist the support of citizens of every political faith. I only hope that your efforts will be duplicated throughout the State so that all New Yorkers can be shown that the cause of Barry Goldwater is a just one and will put New York in the Goldwater column on November 3."

"In closing may I say that following the nomination of Senator Goldwater and Congressman Miller as the standard bearers of the Republican Party I pledge my complete and unqualified support to the National Ticket and now I sincerely feel that I can do no less than pledge that same support to an Ulster County group which is dedicated to the election of Barry Goldwater and William Miller. If we all work together in the common cause, I am certain that we can insure a smashing victory for Barry Goldwater in Ulster County."

Michigan Tests Backlash

Democrats Prepare To Nominate Bobby

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Democrats prepared today to hand Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy their senatorial nomination while, in Michigan, two Democratic congressmen clashed in a primary expected to test the potency of the white backlash.

Kennedy, 38, was considered virtually certain to win the nod at the state Democratic convention to oppose Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, 64. Rep. Samuel Stratton, however, continued to wage what most observers saw as a futile battle to block Kennedy's nomination.

Reapportionment Battle
In Michigan's 16th District, on the outskirts of Detroit, Reps. John Lesinski of Dearborn and John Dingell of Detroit squared off in a battle brought about by reapportionment of Michigan's congressional seats.

Although neither stressed civil rights, the issue became an inevitable part of the campaign when Lesinski voted against the 1964 Civil Rights Act — the only Northern Democrat to do so.

The district is approximately 90 per cent white and most of it has been represented until now by Lesinski, who like Dingell is the son of a former congressman.

The term backlash is used to designate white opposition to Negro civil rights gains. In statewide primary contests, three Republicans were trying for the senatorial nomination, to run against Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart in November.

Easy Romney Victory

Gov. George Romney, seeking his second term, was expected to win an easy primary victory over George Higgins, The Democratic nominee, Rep. Neil F. Staebler, is unopposed. The New York contest marks

Kennedy's first bid for elective office. He has moved to New York after living in Virginia and voting in Massachusetts, but members of his family have resided in New York for years. Republicans, at the state committee meeting Monday, made clear that the "carpet-bagger" issue would be a major factor.

AF Loses Track Of Titan 3A in Test Held Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force launched a Titan 3A military space rocket on its maiden test flight today, but lost track of it 13 minutes after lift-off.

The 124-foot rocket blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 10 a.m. (EST). Its goal was to launch its third stage into orbit as a flying launch platform. The platform, in turn, was to kick loose a dummy satellite into separate orbit.

Within minutes, the second and third stages fired right on schedule. But, as the rocket zipped 100 miles over a tracking station in the West Indies island of Antigua, all radio contact was lost with the vehicle.

Just at 3d Stage

The radio blackout occurred just a few seconds before the third stage was to have burned out and inserted itself into orbit.

"We just don't know what happened," Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bleymaier, Titan 3A program manager, told a news conference later.

He said the blackout could in-

Programs Are Held In Poland Ulbricht Demands Admission to U.N.

BY JOHN FIEHN

BERLIN (AP) — Germans on both sides of the Red wall in this old capital of Hitler's reich today observed the fateful day a quarter of a century ago when the dictator sent his army crashing into Poland, setting off the worst war in history.

On the West side of the wall, it was a day honoring the soldier dead of the World War II Allies, including the Russians. On the other side, an East German rally heard Communist leader Walter Ulbricht ask for full recognition for his regime by all Allies who fought Hitler.

In Warsaw, Polish leaders observed the day with rallies, speeches and mourning in Warsaw and Gdansk, once the free city of Danzig. Danzig was the first to feel the wrath of Hitler's war machine.

Fired First Shot

At 4:45 a. m. Sept. 1, 1939, the German cruiser Schleswig-Holstein fired the first shot of the war, beginning a bombardment of Westerplatte, a small Polish enclave across Danzig Bay.

In West Berlin, the three Western Allied commanders in Berlin and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt commemorated the anniversary by honoring those who died in the conflict.

Maj. Gen. John F. Franklin, the U. S. city commandant, and Brandt laid wreaths jointly at a memorial at U. S. headquarters in West Berlin's suburb of Dahlem.

Brandt at Ceremonies

Brandt took part in British and French ceremonies, then went to ceremonies at a cemetery for war dead from the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Holland in West Berlin. Finally Brandt laid a wreath at a cemetery for Germany's dead of World War II.

In East Berlin, Ulbricht said his government strives for full international recognition, especially by all the Allies who fought Hitler's Germany. He also demanded that his Red-ruled country be admitted to the United Nations.

Researcher Says World Famine to Strike Millions

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — A world famine striking "hundreds of millions or even billions of human beings" is near, a scientist-economist warned today.

"It will be the most colossal catastrophe in history," declared Dr. Raymond Ewell, vice president for research, State University of New York at Buffalo.

Such a famine in Asia, Africa and South America by the 1970s and later seems almost inevitable as expanding population outstrips food production, he told the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Ewell said the only immediate step open to avert it is for the United States and Europe to make outright Good Samaritan gifts of millions of tons of fertilizers to increase local food yields.

The deadline even for succeeding this way is only a few years away, he said.

Birth control is the ultimate answer, Dr. Ewell said, but its effects on the food-population problem will be slow. Unless birth control is applied, however, the famine would still come regardless of boosts in food production, he said.

By present trends, "it seems likely that the famine will reach serious proportions in India, Pakistan and China in the early 1970s, followed by Indonesia, Iran, Turkey, Egypt and several other countries within a few years, and then followed by most of the other countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America by 1980," Dr. Ewell predicted.

Population in these areas will increase by about one billion persons in 20 years, but food output has not been increasing, he said.

State DPW Reverses Rule On Christmas Lights Ban

The pressure of public opinion expressed in petitions to the State Public Works Department since early this year, caused the department to reverse its announced policy which would ban Christmas decorations and other signs over state highways, provided they meet criteria designed to ensure public safety and to protect the state from liability, it was announced by J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of public works.

Communities will be allowed to install special Christmas decorations or other temporary signs over state highways, provided they meet criteria designed to ensure public safety and to protect the state from liability, it was announced by J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of public works.

May Apply Today

Effective today, the State Department of Public Works will accept applications from villages and other political subdivisions for permits allowing such decorations or banners to be installed, within the state highway right-of-way, the superintendent said.

Earlier this year, the Department requested communities to ban these devices over state highways because of potential hazards and the possibility of claims against the state. This request was sent primarily to villages. It did not apply to state routes through cities where the state does not have jurisdiction.

However, communities and local organizations petitioned the state to allow Christmas decorations and other devices, such as banners proclaiming local celebrations, to be erected over state highways during the holidays or for special observances.

At a recent conference of DPW officials in Albany, it was decided to permit installation of the overhead devices provided the communities assume financial liability for any claims and that specific steps are taken to ensure the safety of persons and

COUNTY LEADER WITH SENATOR HUMPHREY—Aaron E. Klein, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee is pictured here with Senator Hubert H. Humphrey. Democratic vice presidential nominee, Chairman Klein attended the National Democratic Convention in Atlantic City, N. J., as an elected delegate of the 28th Congressional District, with John J. Schick, chairman of the executive committee, as alternate delegate. About the convention, Klein said "... it was a memorable experience."

Chairman Klein Praises Johnson-Humphrey Ticket

Aaron E. Klein, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee and an elected delegate from the 28th Congressional District to the Democratic National Convention, cited the proceedings as "... a memorable experience."

Alternate to the convention was John J. Schick, chairman of the county executive committee. Mr. Schick also served as the appointed leader of the New York State delegation's demonstrations during the convention. The convention was held Monday, Aug. 24 through Thursday, Aug. 27.

Accompanying Klein and Schick were Mrs. Klein, Mrs. Schick, Mrs. John J. Hogan, vice chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee; her husband John J. Hogan, local Democratic committeeman; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Dunham of Phoenixia; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Raimondi of Glasco; Arnold Banker, supervisor of the Town of Hardenburgh; Herbert Weiss, local Democratic candidate for district attorney; Irving Weiss, president of Ulster County Young Democratic Club; Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville; Jack Baglioni, state committeeman; Mrs. Mary T. Fisher of Kingston; Mrs. Russell Murphy of Port Ewen.

Others attending were James T. McCordie, city chairman; Joseph Pollicano of Kingston and Alderman and Mrs. Leonard Van Dyke of the sixth ward.

Mrs. Klein was an invited guest to the Women-Doers reception given by Mrs. Margaret Price, national vice chairman of the Democratic Party.

Serving as honorary chairman of the reception was Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

The delegates and visitors also attended a reception at the Ritz Carlton given by Congresswoman Edna Kelly of Brooklyn, N. Y., Democratic National Committeeman from New York State.

A high point of the convention week was a reception given by Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York for Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, and another reception given by former Governor Averill Harriman for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy. The local delegates attended all these receptions.

Lauds Candidates

In summing up his experiences at the convention, Mr. Klein said:

"The Democratic Party transacted its business skillfully. It is safe to say that all who attended the convention had an enjoyable and memorable experience. But, most important, the party nominated our incomparable President Lyndon B. Johnson as its standard bearer and a giant of a man, Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, as his running mate.

"This is a ticket which can be offered to all our neighbors, whatever their formal political affiliations as a great all-American team.

"What a contrast with the low-grade performance in the Cow Palace in which Easterners, the moderates and the press were castigated and booed and where extremism was extolled as a new-found virtue and moderation was condemned."

When Conventions Should Be Muted

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The first thing to learn about a bidding convention is when to use it. The second is when not to use it.

North and South were using the Jacoby ace convention so that North could have asked for aces by jumping to five clubs over his partner's three no trump rebid. On the other hand North was more interested in finding out about the queen and jack of diamonds than about aces and kings and therefore North decided to rebid his diamond suit and see what his partner would do.

North's diamond rebid gave South a chance to put his thinking machine to work. South decided that his queen and jack of diamonds were certain to be most important cards so South decided to ask for aces.

North made the dutiful response of five hearts to show two of them and South continued to five no-trump.

This five no-trump call was the Blackwood request for kings but in expert circles the bid is more than a request for kings in that it also guarantees that the partnership holds all four aces.

This gave North a chance to do some thinking of his own. Why was South interested in a grand slam? He had shown a minimum type hand by his three no-trump rebid. He held two aces and in addition it appeared certain that he would show up with the queen of diamonds and the king of hearts. In that case North could count 13 tricks so North bid the grand slam in no-trump.

The 1963 airline payload was 2,836,432 passengers—a feat that the Mayflower, remaining constantly under sail, would have needed 5,056 years to accomplish.

Central Hudson Is Cooperating With Tree Trust

On its yearly powerline-trimming program, the Central Hudson has invited the cooperation of the Woodstock Tree Trust to insure that all trimming work is done to the best aesthetic advantage of the town, a Tree Trust announcement said today.

Under the new setup, the tree warden of the Tree Trust, Bill Ransom, will accompany the trimming crews, who are scheduled to start their work throughout the Woodstock township in September.

This cooperative effort will insure that trees will be trimmed in a balanced manner, often requiring some extra work to insure a pleasing result. Limbs will be cut back to the trunk to prevent future rot. A little extra work will be thrown in here and there to avoid having to cut all but the strictly necessary branches.

The Woodstock Tree Trust reports that it is receiving ever increasing cooperation from state and county authorities as well as from the utility companies, and says it has been gratifying to see how the aesthetic objectives of Woodstock are being accepted and furthered.

Artists' Fall Costume Ball Is Gala Event in Woodstock

Always a highlight on any year's social calendar in Woodstock is the now traditional fall costume ball of the Woodstock Artists Association. This year the big fete bodes well to be one of the most unusual and entertaining of all time. For sheer fun, it'll be hard to beat the scintillating entertainment lined up for the 1964 edition. Sweeping the world these days is a pastime known as Discotheque Dancing, and that's the overall theme chosen for this week's gayety-loaded Left Bank Ball. You don't need a band for discotheque and dances are invited and discarded on the spot to the background of spinning platters on the record machine or juke box. All of which leads to a thoroughly relaxed, informal and sometimes romping time.

That's only a small hint of what party goers can expect from the gala festivities slated to take over the Art Students League buildings and campus on ball night, Saturday, September 5th. Costume parties can always be counted on to bring out flair and fun galore and the upcoming ball's "Left Bank" theme will afford a wide range of choice for dressing up, from fancy garb to bohemian styles. Posters around town have been heralding the event for the past several weeks. Designed by artist Yona Beattie and silk screened by Bernard Steffen, they feature a catch phrase, "the dark, forbidden spot." Again, this tells only part of the story. The smart new dances of '64 are being performed these summer nights in swanky discotheques, those new brand nightclubs popping up everywhere in the U. S. and Europe. The atmosphere at the League ball this Saturday will emulate these niteries, bringing to Woodstock the best in specially recorded music (and, quite possibly, some "live" musicians "sitting in") to provide a backdrop for the Frug, Wash Wash, Surf and Watusi, all of which have taken up where the Twist left off.

Mulligan Chairman

General chairman Sarah Mulligan and a hard-working group of committees will offer a host of other special inducements for those seeking merriment over the Labor Day weekend. Dancing, food, and decorations will be only a few of the ball's attraction-getting features. On hand, for example, will be the nationally famous Rivituso, a fortune teller of extraordinary talents and persuasiveness. Cross his palm with a small donation for the Association, and your past, present and future will be analyzed at depth. Rivituso will astound and confound you.

Still another feature will be a rare appearance by Woodstock's multi-talented artist John Pike, who'll set up shop on the grounds to assume a public role he has rarely performed in the past. Painter Pike will do his famous and unique caricatures of partygoers who, for a pittance, would like their features and personality traits committed to paper for posterity. The committee feels sure this will prove one of the major draws of the evening. Some of Pike's cartoons grace the walls of Deane's Restaurant and they are collector's items.

For those who resist the lure of the Hully Gully, Hitchhiker, Chickenback or Twist, there'll be no dearth of slow pieces to dance by and no dearth of beautiful partners with whom to dance.

The evening has been well planned for your entertainment. Mary Jones' Decorations Committee has dressed out the windows of the Woodstock Bank to entice local residents and visitors to purchase tickets early at Roger Jones Sports Shop, the Woodstock Artists Association Gallery, or from Association members. In addition, they may be purchased at the door. Matzy Axel is in charge of food; Carolyn Wilson will arrange tables; Mary Jones,

THE NEW YORK STRING TRIO, who will play the final Maverick Concert of the 1964 season Sunday, Sept. 6, at 3 p. m. in Woodstock, include from left to right: Gerald Tarack, violinist; Alexander Kiugell, cellist; and Harry Zaratzian, violist.

Tommy Beere, Arthur Zaidenberg, Gladys Plate and Susan Cantine will decorate the League in full discotheque regalia; Ken Downer and Bob Jacobson will handle policing; and Yona Beattie, Doris Lee, Susan Cantine, Jane Molyneux, Mary Robinson and Margaret Wettler are distributing tickets. Janann Moncreux has charge of entertainment and the "Choice by Chance" event.

All that remains is for Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public to dream up a costume, get a ticket, and enjoy the "Left Bank Discotheque."

Turnau's Figaro Might Have Been Better - Landau

The Turnau Opera Company ended its season this summer with two performances of Mozart's Marriage of Figaro. It was an impressive season, eight solid weeks of opera with the bill changing every week. Some of the performances were superb—all of them were good and pleased a grateful audience.

Friday's Marriage falls into the latter category. There were excellent moments, but the entire performance got off to a slow start and never developed the energetic and sprightly quality which is essential in this opera. This is surprising, because the Turnau Players have done the Marriage often and brilliantly in the past. The reason must be insufficient practice for singers and pianists alike—there simply was not enough time to rehearse. I am sure it went better the second night.

Among the principal singers, only Alan Baker as the Count was at his best. Baker tried valiantly to keep things moving and his own singing and acting were superb. We never heard him do the big third act aria so well—it alone was worth the price of admission.

The bass J. B. Davis, who was Figaro, has a glorious voice, but I am not sure he is well suited to buffa roles that require rapid articulation and a light delivery. Among the women, Carolyn Heafner as Susannah was well cast and will eventually excel in this role. Friday her first act was weak—Figaro covered her in their duet—but she sang well in the second and third acts and beautifully in the fourth. Her Den Vieni was lovely.

Something Lacking

Drusilla Lodge's Countess should be one of her good roles, but Friday she could not summon the requisite vocal output. Her dove sono was better than Porgi d'amor, but those unprepared C's in dove sono at the beginning of the aria and the da capo—were not together with the piano. Somebody should have signalled the other. Incidentally, I heard Miss Lodge sing this great aria beautifully in a pre-season concert.

The mezzo roles were sung by Nancy Wyner, as Cherubino, and Doris Mayes, as Marcellina. Mrs. Wyner did her best, but she was not type cast. Miss Mayes acted and sang well—her soft highs have a falsetto quality but her fortes are excellent.

Among the singers of minor roles, Anthony Tamburello was outstanding as Bartolo. He is a true buffo bass and a fine comedian.

Some of the stage business was awkward and the by-play distracting to no good purpose.

Women Injured In 2-Car Crash, Summons Issued

A New York man was issued a summons for failure to keep right after his car became involved in a two-car accident at 2:30 p. m. Monday on Route 28-A in the Town of Hurley. A 74-year-old St. Albans, Queens, woman was taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment of contusions of the lower chest as a result of the accident.

A car operated by James Joseph Grusse, 73, of 187-30 Keesville Avenue, St. Albans, Queens, was traveling south on Route 28-A when a car operated north by Peter Michael Reitman, 20, of 3396 Wayne Avenue, New York City, failed to make a left turn and struck the Grusse car.

Injured was Rosanna Cruise, wife of the operator of the car.

Reitman will appear before Justice of the Peace Alton Boice later to answer to a charge of failing to keep right.

Trooper Robert Mackey of the Kingston station investigated.

GE Faces Strike Threat Over Piece Work Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Electric Co. was confronted today with the threat of a strike at all of its plants by the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), which is fighting the company's plans to eliminate piece-work rates at its Schenectady, N.Y., plant.

The AFL-CIO union's General Electric Conference Board voted Monday to call a company-wide strike if its Local 301 at Schenectady goes on strike.

A union spokesman said negotiations were still in progress at Schenectady and that there was no indication when or if Local 301 would strike.

The spokesman said James B. Carey, IUE international president, attended the board meeting Monday and supported the resolution to strike all 70 General Electric plants "when Local 301 is forced to strike."

About 70,000 of the union's 275,000 members work for General Electric.

General Electric last July suspended at Schenectady piece-work rates which had averaged $4.36 per hour, and put the 3,000 workers affected on straight hourly pay averaging $2.91.

Two federal judges in New York have upheld the company's right to cancel the piece-work, or "incentive" rates, but the matter still is before the courts.

State Fair Looks For Visitors From Big World's Show

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—New York's annual state fair stood in the wings of the World's Fair today, and officials hoped some of the visitors in New York City would wander this way.

Floating balloons, ribbon-snapping and agricultural shows gave a counterpoint air to today's opening of the 118th state fair, now formally known as the New York Exposition. It will run through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

Political figures, including Gov. Rockefeller and senatorial hopefuls Robert F. Kennedy and Kenneth B. Keating, are expected to join fair-goers.

The list of exhibits ranges from livestock to Gemini space capsules, and the entertainment will vary from stock car racing to folksinging and jazz.

Officials are hopeful that this year's attendance will top last year's count of 462,142. The exposition attendance record was set in 1959, when 517,779 attended the fair.

Two Hurt When Car Overturns

At 1:15 a. m. today a car operated by Vincent Buckmann Jr., 17, of Rock City Road, Woodstock, which was traveling north on Route 375 between West Hurley and Woodstock, ran off the left of the highway, struck a tree and overturned. The car struck shulbery, a mail box and stone pillar and turned upright again.

Taken to Kingston hospital was the operator who suffered a broken nose and abrasions of the face. A passenger in the car, Linda Seaman, 17, of Route 28, West Hurley also was taken to the hospital and treated for abrasions of the right knee.

Troopers Charles Bundschuh and John McMichale investigated. The troopers stated arrests were pending.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 1, 1964

RESPECT, COURTESY NEEDED

The Public Health Service reports that for the first four months of 1964 the automobile accident death rate was 13 per cent higher than for the same period in 1963.

The State Department of Motor Vehicles reports that highway fatalities in New York State continued to climb sharply during July, with 231 accidents killing 259 persons—48 more than in July, 1963.

July's additions to the year's death toll brings the total to 1,470 for the first seven months in the state. This is 204 more than the 1,266 killed during the same period in 1963.

The total includes 529 pedestrians, as against 430 last year.

The marvel is that the death rate isn't higher than that when you see the total lack of courtesy and respect for others shown by drivers on public highways. Too many of them think (or don't think) as they sit behind the wheel of a car with a 200 to 350 horsepower engine that they own the road. They pay no attention to speed laws, they ignore the simplest driving rules and they seem to think that it always will be the other fellow who will be hurt, instead of themselves, when they cause accidents.

You read in the newspapers of one-car accidents in which "the car went out of control." Most often, the authorities claim, this really means the driver couldn't handle his racing machine at the speed he was driving round a curve when a tree or a power pole failed to get out of his way.

The better the highway the greater the danger, because most drivers are totally incompetent to handle their cars at the speeds they can go in violation of speed limits.

Until respect for others improves, automobile killings will continue to mount.

THE RED 'APPEAL'

Between August 13, 1961, when the Berlin Wall was erected, and July 31, 1964, exactly 140,853 former East Germans applied for residence in West Germany. The figures has just been released by the Federal Republic's Ministry for Refugee Affairs.

Of this number, the largest group is composed of persons who happened to be on the western side when the Wall went up and who chose not to go back. Others are those who have been permitted by the Communist authorities to join their families in West Germany.

A third group—totalling 19,705—is composed of persons who succeeded in escaping to the West despite the Wall and death strip in Berlin and barbed wire, mined fields and guards elsewhere along the East-West border.

Of these, fully 75 per cent were under 25 years of age, and 1,633 of them were serving with the East German "People's Police" or army when they fled.

During this same period, the number of persons killed attempting to cross the line was 105—53 in Berlin and 52 at other points along the edge of the Iron Curtain.

ONE-MAN CHARITY

Our society is so well ordered, these days, that it is easy to fall into the habit of assuming that organizations can do everything. The basket for the poor has been supplanted by societies and welfare agencies, and so forth. In general, this is a good thing, since organizations can do many things beyond individual reach.

It is still true, however, that individuals can take action and not simply say, in effect, "Let George do it." The point is illustrated by a little story about a New York song-and-dance man who is driving a cab while "at liberty." Paul Raynard has been gathering clothes from his fares for eventual shipment to distressed families in the Appalachian area. When winter comes, the world will be a little better for such families because of what this modest young man has taken upon himself to do.

THE HERSEY AGREEMENT IN RETROSPECT

Did Barry Goldwater "capitulate" to the liberal Republicans at Hershey, Pennsylvania? The point is still being argued with considerable heat. Some commentators have deduced the "harmony" session that Barry has let his most fervent supporters, the unyielding conservatives, down. These commentators have chortled about "surrender," and have said that Goldwater has placed a "veto" in Ike Eisenhower's hands over the choice of possible Secretary of State. Other observers more careful of their semantics, have not discerned "surrender" in the Goldwater promise to consult with Eisenhower on foreign policy personnel and matters. A promise to seek advice is not necessarily an iron-clad promise to accept it willy nilly.

For myself, I think the controversy over the "capitulation" theory proceeds from a disingenuous attempt by anti-Goldwaterites to muddy the waters. This muddying is indulged in on several levels. In sarcastic vein, a liberal commentator has suggested that people like Robert Welch and General Walker will show up in the Goldwater cabinet. This is sheer vicious distortion. I am not privy to Goldwater's inmost thoughts, but I would offer good odds that, even before the Hershey meeting with the "liberal" Republican governors and party leaders, Barry Goldwater has someone like Richard Nixon or William Knowland in mind for Secretary of State. If this does indeed represent his range of choice, he took no risk in intimating to Eisenhower that he would accept advice on foreign policy personnel. Ike could hardly veto either Nixon or Knowland. After all, Nixon was Ike's own "boy" and Knowland fully agreed with the Dulles policy on the safety of Formosa Strait.

Goldwater has almost certainly given nothing away by mollifying the "liberals" with a promise to stay away from extremists who believe in violating laws to get their way. After all, who has been more obdurately a "constitutionalist" than Barry himself? Goldwater was among the first to raise the "switchblade" issue, making the question of safety in the streets a prominent part of his acceptance speech at San Francisco. Ever since then Lyndon Johnson has been hitting the same note. Since Goldwater has been so explicit in the leadership he has taken in repudiating illegal violence, how can it be pictured as "capitulation" when he promises the liberal Republicans that he wants no votes from anybody who would settle things by by-passing the law? As for contested epigram, "extremism in defense of freedom is no vice," didn't John F. Kennedy say something in his inauguration speech about helping any friend, opposing any enemy, bearing any burden and paying any price to assure the survival of freedom? If you are willing to bear any burden and pay any price, aren't you being extreme? Goldwater, indeed, could be accused of cribbing from Kennedy—but that was not among the issues that had to be settled at Hershey.

Far from surrendering to the liberals, Goldwater has taken them piecemeal into his own camp by exposing the fact that the members of the so-called "Eastern Establishment" are by no means agreed among themselves on what they mean by liberalism. The Ike Eisenhower who stood firm with John Foster Dulles on the issue of Quemoy and Matsu could hardly boggle at a firm Goldwater line toward Communists in Vietnam or Berlin. The Milton Eisenhower who was one of the authors of the Republican "position paper" on Cuba is not in a good spot to object to the formation of an anti-Castro government-in-exile. The Richard Nixon who has spoken up so bravely at times for the Hungarians and the Poles could only cheer if Goldwater should let loose with a detailed denunciation of Soviet colonialism. There is enough agreement between Goldwater and the separate liberals on separate specific issues to make for a common campaign, not without anybody being called upon to apologize or show a white feather.

Goldwater promised nothing at Hershey other than to consult with Eisenhower on someone like Nixon for Secretary of State, someone like ex-diplomat Robert Murphy to be an important assistant to a man like Nixon, and someone like Clare Luce for Ambassador—or Ambassador—to the UN. He promised nothing more than to keep clear of enlisting the help of anarchists of the deed. How does any of this do violence to the "original" Barry Goldwater? The answer is that Goldwater is still Goldwater, and most of the liberal Republicans, scenting a possible party victory in November, have decided they can get along with the man.

Sheehan's Syndrome Due To Postnatal Hemorrhage

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Following the birth of my baby I did not menstruate for three years. Last January I started again. Two doctors told me I have Sheehan's syndrome. What is the cause and what is the usual treatment?

A—Just after you had your baby you must have had a severe hemorrhage. As a result of such a hemorrhage, the blood flow to the pituitary gland is reduced and the gland undergoes degeneration for want of enough oxygen. That is the cause of Sheehan's syndrome.

The degree of severity varies but failure of the breasts to produce milk and failure to menstruate are common symptoms. There may also be loss of body hair and low blood pressure.

Prompt and adequate treatment of shock and hemorrhage following delivery will prevent this syndrome or limit it to a very mild form. Some victims gradually improve with time. Giving pituitary hormone does no good but thyroid, adrenal and ovarian hormones may be helpful. Most doctors advise against another pregnancy in women who have had this disease.

Q—A few years ago when I had my annual physical examination, my doctor told me I didn't have enough hemoglobin in my blood, so he gave me Trinscon. When I moved out of the state, I couldn't get it without a prescription. Why is this?

A—Trinscon is a combination that contains liver and stomach extracts, vitamins B-12 and C, iron and folic acid. It is given for anemia but is obtainable only on a prescription because the folic acid masks the nerve damage that may occur as a complication of the anemia. Trinscon-M is made without the folic acid and may be purchased without a prescription.

Q—What causes von Recklinghausen's skin disease?

A—In this hereditary condition, areas of darkly pigmented skin occur chiefly on the back and abdomen. There are also many soft tumors of various sizes all over the body. Although these appear to be skin tumors, they are really nerve tumors within the skin. The condition is painless and does not affect the victim's general health but may be somewhat disfiguring. Because there are so many of these small tumors, removal is out of the question except for those few that may be so large or so located that they cause discomfort from pressure.

"Sometimes It's Hard to Tell Which One's the Enemy!"

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The third convulsion in South Viet Nam's government since last October took place largely because of antagonism among professional men and intellectuals in the nation's large cities. This opposition to governmental policies translated into the student riots, which, in turn, brought about the upheaval within the regime of Nguyen Khanh.

A strong anti-Khanh and anti-American attitude was in evidence during my tour through Viet Nam recently. I was having a late dinner in the back room of a Saigon restaurant with a group of students, professors and professional men—mainly architects, engineers and lawyers. They were open and friendly.

I asked them what they thought of the U.S. bombings in the Tonkin Gulf. It was a pleasant question. I expected a polite "It was good" answer. But instead there was dead silence. I fidgeted and so did they.

Finally, after prodding, I got one student to answer. "It depends on why you did it," he said. "Did you bomb North Viet Nam to help us or because of your domestic politics? Are you here to help us or to carry out your own aims?"

This led to more questions by the others. They asked: "We don't mind your insisting on a Viet Nam government friendly to you. But why don't you give us some say in choosing that government? Why must it be headed by a man you choose? Why did Mr. Lodge pick the government after he ousted Diem? And why did you then oust that government and choose Khanh?"

A few days later I talked to a range of other professional men. To a man, they had nothing against Khanh personally. They approved of a stronger, firm, war government. But they didn't like his suspicion of civilians. They didn't like his military government. They didn't like open U. S. steps to prevent anyone from ousting Khanh.

As one former high Vietnamese government official put it in a private conversation we had at his home: "We don't mind military men having the final say. After all, this is war. But why can't there be a civilian prime minister under a military chief of state? Let the military men run the military council. Give them, if you wish, a veto power on anything concerning the war. But in Khanh's government there's little place for civilians."

Another professional man talked to me at length a few days later while we were waiting out a rainstorm in a Saigon sidewalk cafe.

"You Americans talk democracy," he said. "But you back a dictatorship. You've got to show some leadership. Give us some demonstration of democracy so we'll have something to fight for."

"What have we got to fight for now? Some of us know and hate communism. But most of our people don't know what communism is. Do you expect them to fight for a military dictatorship?"

"You interfere so much in some ways. Yet you are afraid to interfere in important ways you could help. Take up your courage and do something to create democracy in South Viet Nam, instead of wringing your hands and saying 'we can't interfere in your internal affairs.'"

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Sept. 1, 1944 — The city engineer's office reported 10 August days with temperatures in the 90's, 11 in the 80's, and a high of 101 on Aug. 12.

A card party was to be held at the Marine Temple to benefit the OES War Emergency Fund of the Grand Chapter.

A butter shortage was reported here.

A program marking the close of the city's park season drew an estimated attendance of 2,000 at Hasbrouck Park.

Sept. 1, 1954 — Area employees of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., having repaired nearby, scattered hurricane storm damage, were sent to assist workmen in New England and on Long Island.

Polls were to be open from noon to 9 p. m., on Sept. 14, Primary Day.

An August rainfall of 4.44 inches was reported here.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, due to retire, gained an extension of six months.

Because you are already interfering.

I talked to the managing editor of a prominent Saigon newspaper. "Khanh and his people don't trust me," he said, "because I once fought in Ho Chi Minh's army."

"But I fought as a nationalist against the French colonialists. I quit when we won our independence and found that Ho was a Communist. There are a lot of people like me. But this government doesn't want us."

I interviewed a veteran politician who is trusted and respected by a wide variety of Americans and Vietnamese. Some think he some day will be head of the government when civilians again run the country.

"There is no place for a man like me now," he said. "I am waiting. I want to do something for my country in the government. But I am not asked. I am not used."

I checked these thoughts with a high American official in Saigon. "Khanh's keeping too many good civilians out of the government," he said. "We know that. For one, he's barred many able men, just because they had prominent places in the Diem government."

"We know too that Khanh and the men around him are overly suspicious of civilians in general. They don't trust them. They can't afford this luxury. The layer of able leadership is too thin. We're trying to change this attitude. But we haven't made much headway so far."

This isn't the whole story. Some Vietnamese don't trust today's military leaders — not because they are military men — but because of their personal backgrounds.

I was drinking tea on his porch with a Vietnamese intellectual who had spent much of his life in the government, rising to a rather high position. He was once an officer in Ho Chi Minh's army in the war against the French, but that had been no handicap because he was a personal friend of Khanh. But he doesn't trust the men around Khanh.

"I know many of these military men now in high posts," he said. "They were loyal to the French in the war for independence. Some of us think of them as you thought of those American colonialists who fought for the British in the American Revolution. How can we trust them?"

Side Effects of Campaign Oratory May Serve Purpose

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — No matter which way the Presidential election turns out, the campaign may serve a useful and constructive purpose.

The arguments advanced could furnish warnings to Russia on how the American people feel about aggressions and particularly about the dangers of assuming that nuclear scares have produced a "peace at any price" attitude in this country.

On the domestic side, the American people could be made to see that an economic depression and panic are by no means impossible and that preventive measures must be taken at once by the party which is victorious at the polls. For sound arguments will inevitably be recognized. However one may dislike the other fellow's philosophy, one knows in his heart when a valid point has been made.

While demagoguery and distortion will play their part, the final impact on the policies that the successful candidate will have to pursue will become unmistakable after the campaign is over and the final election results have been tabulated.

Take the issue of war or peace. Each side today proclaims its sincere desire to avoid war. But how is it to be accomplished? By extolling pacifism and frightening the American people and by stressing constantly the horrors of war? Or can the true cause of peace be better served if the campaign speakers reveal to the people in all candor just how shifting and bungling policies can actually bring on the war nobody wants?

The Democratic administration's unfortunate handling of the Bay of Pigs invasion is a case in point. It made a profound impression in military circles, where there is a deep-seated feeling that irresolute, vacillation in councils and lack of planning can indeed bring on a worse situation. The blunder in that episode was the failure to let military men run a military operation, while diplomats and bungling advisers stayed the President's hand.

This is precisely the kind of danger that has to be exposed so that a President will not be swayed again by the appeasers or the timidity cliques that have access so often to the man in the White House.

Will the military men be hamstrung in fighting a war? Already there is considerable emphasis in campaign speeches on what is being construed as an effort to let civilians run military operations.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

The other day in my mail slot I found five tickets for the "Kingston Sleightsbury Ferry Co. tickets two cents," signed "J. Hasbrouck, Pres." The note with the tickets said: "Sophie—Someone left these for you." I appreciate their thoughtfulness and hope they will accept my thanks at this time. I will put them in with a picture of the gone but not forgotten ferry.

The other evening Robert Mattheus brought down some exciting postal cards from his collection to show me. He makes up his own folders for displaying them. He collects for instance Hudson-Fulton official celebration cards, of which he has several dozen. Then he has patriotic cards, which used to come out for patriotic holidays with flags. In the days of penny postal cards and penny to send a card, anyone going on a trip anywhere, especially for patriotic holiday weekend would send dozens of these cards to friends and relatives. Today with a four cent stamp needed for a card, all these cards have disappeared.

Mr. Mattheus recently bought some postal cards on Kingston Point Park, and he has many from before. He has one of the merry-go-round pavilion at the point, it was a beautiful building. This photo postal card was taken from a hill above, and so for the first time I saw the interesting roof, sort of cone shaped, over a round collar tower roof. He has one of Hudson River steamer near Kingston Point landing taken near the Yacht Club, which was loaded with people, and it seemed to be such rough weather. The card was posted 1913. I have seen many Kingston Point cards, and so many are different, which makes me wonder, how many were really printed, and how many various scenes they took.

Mr. Mattheus showed me a moonlight view taken from the Wilbur Bridge showing the Rondout Creek. This was posted in 1911. He has one of The Strand and Broadway, with the peanut push-cart at the corner curb. You can read "5 and 10 cent peanuts." There are two big wooden clock signs, one for Vignes and one for Bond, on each side of the Strand business section. He also has a postal card view of the ferris wheel at Kingston Point Park. A rare card of the summer trolley car passing the old Opera House building before the Stayvantage Hotel was built. Many of these were printed either by The Leighton and Valentine Co. of New York City or The Hugh C. Leighton Co. Mfg. of Portland, Me. Another he showed me was of Union Hose Co. parade during the Kingston 250th Anniversary in May of 1908. I could not cover all the cards he showed me, but I feel many are of historical value. One covers the Boston Tea Party event of Dec. 16, 1773, and wonder when they sent it. There were several of the

A—Orion.

Q—In a striking clock, does the first or last stroke mark the hour?
A—Usually the first stroke.

Q—Are goldfish naturally gold in color?
A—No, naturally they are greenish-brown. The gold color has been produced by careful breeding.

Q—What tree does manna come from.
A—Manna is a product of tamarisk. Young stems punctured by an insect exude a honey-like fluid. This hardens and drops to the ground, where it is picked up and eaten as a great delicacy. (Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Q—To what religious denomination did the early circuit riders belong?
A—The Methodist Church. A circuit rider preached every day and twice on Sunday, covering his circuit every four or five weeks.

Q—Why are filibusters more common in the Senate than in the House?
A—Rules of the Senate permit unlimited debate unless cloture is voted. House rules limit debate.

Q—What family of dogs contains the most breeds?
A—The Spizel family.

Poughkeepsie City Manager Takes Office

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—Theodore W. Maurer, former executive assistant to the mayor in Binghamton, takes office as city manager today in this Dutchess County community. His appointment as city manager was approved by the Common Council earlier in the month.

Maurer, 42, replaces Kenneth Peace, who resigned to become superintendent of public works in Poughkeepsie.

An Associated Press Series

Views of President Johnson Presented on Various Issues

The views of President Lyndon B. Johnson on a variety of topical issues is being presented in a series of articles compiled by the Associated Press beginning today.

The opinions expressed have been taken from the President's speeches, magazine articles, news conferences and other public remarks and messages. The first installment today includes his stand on agriculture, civil rights and the Cuban situation. The next part will cover defense and disarmament.

AGRICULTURE

In a nationwide television broadcast April 24, 1956, speaking in reply to a speech by President Dwight D. Eisenhower on his veto of a Democratic farm bill, Senate Majority Leader Johnson said: "Since 1932, wages have gone up; corporate dividends have gone up; the entire national income has gone up. But the income of the farmer has gone down 26 per cent."

"The worker who is making refrigerator and television sets will sooner or later be out of work if there is no one to buy refrigerators and television sets. But if the farmer can't make a living, the farmer can't buy these things. If he can't buy them, that cuts the market down. And that means workers will be thrown out of jobs."

Could Spin Into Depression

"The farmer's income must be bolstered, not only for the farmer's sake, but for your sake. Otherwise we may spin into another depression."

In a message to Congress on Agriculture, Jan. 31, 1964, Johnson said:

"The agricultural commodity programs developed during the past 30 years have served us well. They are now an indispensable bulwark of our agricultural economy. Without them our food supply would be much less secure than it is today."

"But they are in need of improvement. New conditions arising from the technological revolution in agriculture present a special challenge—a challenge based upon the problems of abundance rather than scarcity."

"We must also look beyond agriculture to rural America as a whole. Fifty-five million Americans live in rural areas. Too many of them have not had an opportunity to acquire the education, skills and earning power which their talents warrant. For too many of them the rural environment has proved a hindrance to a full life, rather than the advantage it rightly can be. We have made great progress in recent years—but we can and must do better."

CIVIL RIGHTS

On March 9, 1949, speaking of a proposal by President Harry S. Truman for a civil rights law, Sen. Johnson told the Senate:

"This civil rights question brings into play all those strong and evil forces of racial prejudice. Perhaps no prejudice is so contagious or so dangerous as the unreasoning prejudice against men because of their birth, the color of their skin, or their ancestral background. Racial prejudice is dangerous because it is a disease of the majority, endangering minority groups."

Trying to Avoid Rekindling

"When we of the South arise here to speak against the civil rights proposals, we are not speaking against the Negro race. We are not attempting to keep alive the old flames of hatred and bigotry. We are, instead, trying to prevent those flames from being rekindled."

Nurses Association

Slates Fall Meeting

The first fall meeting of the District 11, New York State Nurses Association will be held Wednesday evening, Sept. 9, at Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill. Newly elected president, Mrs. Marion Ostrander, assistant supervisor of the Ulster County Health Department, will preside.

Delegates who attended the American Nurses Association Convention in Atlantic City, in June, will report on the business sessions of the association, as well as the clinical problem sessions which were directly related to improving care to patients.

We are trying to tell the rest of the nation that this is not the way to accomplish what so many want to do for the Negro."

In a speech at San Angelo, Tex., Dec. 12, 1958, Johnson said he was opposed to forced integration, but he added:

"We're a little late in our section in recognizing that all men are created equal. I wish the hotheads on both sides would give us a chance to evolve a solution to this problem."

In explaining his vote for the 1957 civil rights bill, Johnson said, "I voted for the civil rights bill because I think everyone ought to have the right to vote, whether he's white or brown or black."

In early 1959, Senate Majority Leader Johnson came up with his own civil rights proposals, including a provision for a Community Relations Service. He explained this in a Texas radio speech, Feb. 8, 1959:

"Basically, the duty of the Community Relations Service would be to provide conciliation assistance where conflicts regarding constitutional rights are disrupting or threatening to disrupt peaceful relations in the community."

Discuss Civil War

As vice president, in a speech at Wayne State University, Mich., Jan. 6, 1963, Johnson discussed the Civil War and said:

"Today, as then, we are engaged in a great struggle. We too hear counsel urging restraint and urging delay. We too are counseled that for the government of the United States to concern itself with the equality of its citizens invites the risk of impairing the chance for success in our struggle to uphold the cause of freedom in the world."

"The counsel of delay is not the counsel of courage. A government conceived and dedicated to the purpose that all men are born free and equal cannot pervert its mission by rephrasing the purpose to suggest that men shall be free today—but shall be equal a little later."

On Nov. 27, 1963, in his first speech as President to a joint session of Congress, Johnson said: "No memorial oration or eulogy could more eloquently honor President Kennedy's memory than the earliest possible passage of the civil rights bill for which he fought so long. We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights. We have talked for 100 years or more. It is time now to write the next chapter, and to write it in the books of law."

On July 2, as he signed the civil rights bill, Johnson said:

"Americans of every race and color have worked to build a nation of widening opportunities. Now our generation of Americans has been called on to continue the unending search for justice within our borders."

On July 28, 1964, in a speech to a group of educators at the White House, Johnson said:

"We must and shall maintain respect for law and order in America, but democracy never has and never will solve its problems at the end of a billy club. Our land is young, our strength is great, our course is far from run, yet there is discontent among our people reaching through our whole society."

CUBA

In a speech March 24, 1964, to the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Conference in Washington, Johnson departed from his prepared text to say this about Cuba:

"The water problem that disturbed us at Guantanamo was solved not by a battalion of Marines bayoneting their way in to turn on the water, but we sent a single admiral over to cut it off. I can say to you that our base is self-sufficient. By lean readiness, a source of danger and disagreement has been removed."

Must Isolate Island

On April 20, 1964, speaking to the annual meeting of The Associated Press in New York, he had this to say about Cuba:

"The use of Cuba as a base for subversion and terror is an obstacle to our hopes for the hemisphere. Our first task must be, as it has been to isolate Cuba from the inter-American system, frustrate its efforts to destroy free governments, and expose for all to see the ugliness of communism. That policy is working. The problems of this hemisphere would be far more serious if Castro sat in the councils of the OAS, disrupting debate and blocking decision—if he had open channels of trade and communications along which subversion and terror could flow—if his economy had been a successful model rather than a dismal warning. The effectiveness of our policy is more than a matter of trade statistics. It has increased awareness of difference and danger, revealed the brutal nature of the Cuban regime, lessened opportunities for subversion, reduced the number of Castro's followers, and drained the resources of our adversaries."

There are almost 3,000 varieties of wildflowers in the foothills of Colorado.

Comedy Director Turns to Addicts For New Movie

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why would a director of smart comedies turn to a film about the rehabilitation of dope addicts?

Richard Quine has his reasons. The director of "Solid Gold Cadillac," "Bell, Book and Candle" and the just-finished "How to Murder Your Wife," he starts next week shooting "Synanon." It's a drama based on true happenings at the famed haven for narcotics addicts in Santa Monica.

"I'm making the film because I have to," Quine explained. "The story of Synanon seems so vital, so important that it has to be told."

"I first found out about the place two and a half years ago. I was down at my place at the beach one evening with a couple of friends, and we were listening to the radio. A disc jockey said he was going to play a record of a conversation among some dope addicts."

"I listened and was amazed. When it was over, I said to my friends, 'Let's find out about this place called Synanon.' So we drove down the coast for a visit."

Quine found himself immediately engrossed in the place. It was founded in 1958 by a former alcoholic named Chuck Dederich. The idea was to provide communal living for victims of dope, drink, and sex who voluntarily wanted to help themselves. They would work to support the place and talk out their problems in hard-hitting seminars, the word which was slurred to producer "Synanon."

"The place was controversial from the start, and Dederich even went to jail for zoning infractions," said Quine. "But the important thing is that Synanon works. It can help not only dope addicts, but juvenile delinquents, alcoholics and persons with mental problems.

"I can't tell you how much Synanon has helped me in showing men that guilt is unnecessary and wrong. The people down there are amazing; they come as close to honesty as anyone I know."

Quine has found no trouble in casting. Cast members like Stella Stevens, Richard Conte and Eartha Kitt are so sold on Synanon that they are working for less than their usual salaries.

As children reach teen age, the proportion drinking milk starts to decline. It declines somewhat more rapidly for girls than boys.

Going All Out, But—

Paolucci Has No Illusions About Winning in Nov.

By CHARLES DUMAS

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Prof. Henry Paolucci, the political "unknown" chosen to carry the Conservative Party banner against Republican Kenneth B. Keating, has no illusions that he will win.

The 43-year-old son of Italian immigrants told reporters Sunday that "I've never even given a thought to winning." But, in the same breath, he promised a vocal, all-out campaign.

Paolucci, a short, stocky man with close-cropped graying hair, has the manner and background of the academician that he is by profession.

He also has a reputation as a two-fisted scrapper and fiery orator—the qualities that led party leaders to choose him as their replacement for Clare Boothe Luce, who bowed out of the picture.

Paolucci, a native of New York City, was born the youngest of five children of Mr. and Mrs. Donato Paolucci.

During World War II, Paolucci enlisted in the Air Force and became a navigator, flying combat missions over Africa and Italy.

After the war, he entered Columbia University, won a Master of Arts degree and was named an Elmore Dusa traveling fellow, as a result of which he spent two years studying in Florence, Italy.

Later, he became a Fulbright fellow and returned to Europe again for more studies in his chosen field, history. In 1960, he received a doctor of philosophy degree from Columbia.

Paolucci taught at Brooklyn College, City College of New York and then both at City College and Iona College in Westchester County, where he now holds forth as an assistant professor of history.

Goldwater Backer Will Be Speaker At Hurley Rally

The chairman of the Goldwater-for-President committee in the 27th Congressional District will be guest speaker at the third annual rally and barbecue sponsored by the Town of Hurley Republican Club Saturday, Sept. 12.

Appearing at the political ceremony will be Albert F. Winslow of Goshen, vice president and treasurer of Chemtree Corporation, Harriman and assistant deputy director of the New York State Civil Defense Commission.

Winslow is a former Orange County Republican committeeman and treasurer of Arborial Associates. He has supported the Goldwater-Miller ticket in a number of addresses on various occasions throughout the state.

A former Orange County Director of Civil Defense, Winslow is active in veteran, church, civic, grange and boy scout affairs. He has done considerable writing in the fields of conservation and the breeding of dogs. Expected to appear at the Hurley rally is the entire slate of Ulster County and regional candidates including Rep. J. Ernest Wharton, State Senator E. Ogden Bush, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, County Treasurer Fred H. DuBois, County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp and Assistant District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca, who is seeking election as District Attorney.

The rally will be held at Walton's Grove off the Lucas Avenue Turnpike in Hurley beginning 1 p. m. Reservations can be made by contacting club president Jack Marquardt in Glenford; Kenneth Hopper, Hurley; Peter Weider, Glenford or Mrs. John Steen, Hurley.

Civil Service Exam Slated for City Post

A civil service examination for the position of payroll clerk in the city is scheduled for Oct. 10, John F. Fitzgerald, secretary of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, announced today.

Applications and other information may be obtained from the city clerk's office, city hall, up to 4 p. m., Sept. 10. Time and place of the examination will be announced.

The salary range is $3,900 to $4,200. There is one vacancy in the city treasurer's office, but the eligibility list resulting from the examination may be used to fill vacancies as they occur in other offices and departments.

Candidates must be legal residents of the state for four months prior to the written test. Preference in appointment will be given persons who have re-

Close Friends Not Surprised Miller Reaches Pinnacle Near End of Politics Trail

By ROBERT T. GRAY

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — Bill Miller, born here 50 years ago in what he calls "an ordinary Irish-Catholic middle-class neighborhood," reached a political pinnacle as he was about to forsake politics.

Some fellow townsmen appear a little dazed at developments as they prepare to give him a send-off Saturday for his campaign as the Republican vice-presidential nominee. But others better acquainted with hard-hitting William Edward Miller profess no particular surprise.

Miller is the type of political candidate the folk of another era would have heralded as a self-made man. He was born in a two-story, cream-colored frame house. His father, in Miller's own words, was a maintenance man "or janitor or whatever you want to call it" for the city.

Judge Agrees Hyman Mintz Is Very Sick Man

NEW YORK (AP) — Assemblyman Hyman Mintz, whose testimony is sought by a grand jury investigating the licensing of the Finger Lakes race tracks, is "a very sick man," a judge said today.

Supreme Court Justice George Postel said he had received that report from a cardiologist appointed by the court to examine the Sullivan County Republican. Postel set the week of Oct. 5 for another medical examination of Mintz.

Mintz, chairman of the Assembly's Excise Committee, has been a patient at Monticello Hospital.

Postel said the cardiologist advised him the grand jury matter should be put over for at least a month.

Earlier this month Morris Gold, Fallsburgh Republican leader, was indicted on perjury charges. He was accused of lying when he denied participation in a plan to pay $100,000 to an unnamed state official to obtain a license for the track.

Miller is in the city for four months before the test.

Qualifications include graduation from a standard senior high school, and a year of clerical experience, which shall have involved the processing of payrolls, or must have a satisfactory equivalent combination of training and experience.

Further information may be obtained when application forms are applied for.

His mother ran a dress and millinery shop not far from the family home. Both parents are dead.

Walked All Time

Miller lived in the house in which he was born until he left home to attend Notre Dame University. After Notre Dame, he attended Albany Law School, served in the armed forces and returned to Lockport to practice law and begin a political career.

As a boy, Miller walked half a dozen blocks to St. Patrick's Parochial School. On Sunday, he walked to Mass at the parish church. After St. Patrick's, he walked to Lockport High School in a building now razed.

"We never had a car," Miller explains. "We walked almost everywhere."

As a young man, the vice-presidential nominee also walked away from the political party of his parents.

"They were long-time Democrats but shifted the first time I ran for office, for district attorney," Miller recalls.

If Miller had not become a Republican he probably would not have won his first election. Lockport is known as a Republican city.

It grew out of the construction of the Erie Canal, built in the 1850s to link the Hudson River with Lake Ontario. Horse-towed barges carried cargo that played an important role in development of the West.

At Lockport, husky construction crews slashed through a six-foot escarpment. They created five locks that gave the city its name.

Completely Changed

Modern Lockport is a far cry from the days of the rough and tough workmen who built the canal and the early boatmen who plied it. It is a city of gracious homes and dotted with churches and schools. About half of Lockport's work force of 10,000 is employed by the Harrison radiator plant of General Motors.

On the eve of "Bill Miller Day" and the formal opening here next Saturday of Miller's campaign, Lockport residents have two principal topics of conversation. Along with speculation about Miller's unexpected prominence, they worry about the possibility of general strikes in the automobile industry. A strike would close the radiator works and cripple local economy.

While a congressman, Miller has maintained a summer home in Oleott, 12 miles away on Lake Ontario, and another home in Washington. Before his nomination he had announced plans to retire from politics and resume the full-time practice of law in Lockport.

Two Women Are Seriously Hurt In Head-on Crash

A Saugerties woman, Emma Van Tassel, 82, and Clara L. Pysher, 53, of 19 Division Street, Catskill, were seriously injured yesterday in a head-on collision in the Town of Ghent, Columbia County. The driver of one of the vehicles was arrested for reckless driving. Both women were admitted to Columbia County Memorial Hospital, Hudson. Also injured in the accident was Louise Burger, 76, also 19 Division Street, Catskill, and Joseph Leavy, 46, of Thomas Street, Chatham.

Trooper A. G. Smith of the Claverack Station said the Pysher car was traveling east on Route 66 and Leavy car skidded across the eastbound lane and collided with the other car. Leavy was given a ticket for reckless driving.

The Van Tassel woman had lacerations and possible internal injuries and her companion, Clara Pysher, sustained lacerations, a broken heel, elbow and nose. Louise Burger had a broken nose and ribs, Joseph Leavy, suffered facial injuries and broken ribs.

State DPW . . .

vehicles passing under the devices.

To make sure these conditions are met, special work permits will be issued by the department under Sections 9 and 52 of the State Highway Law. A $10 fee will be charged to cover administrative costs to the department. Applications for permits may be obtained at the nearest State DPW office.

Superintendent McMorran said the rules are aimed at preventing overhead banners or decorations from obscuring traffic signals or signs, and from being disturbed by passing vehicles or storms.

He noted that drivers, in the past, have cited the presence of overhead devices — particularly lighted Christmas decorations — as a factor in traffic accidents. Decorations or signs which are torn loose or blown down, he added, could injure passersby or cause traffic mishaps.

Rules established by the department for the overhead devices include:

For Observances

1. Permits will be issued only to municipalities or other subdivisions — not to commercial or business interests. The devices must be concerned with civic or municipal activities or observances, such as a centennial or other community celebration. Special decorations for Christmas or other holidays will be permitted.

2. Municipalities must furnish adequate liability insurance to protect the taxpayers of the state against any claims arising from any mishaps in which the overhead devices figure.

3. The banners or decorations must not obscure or distract attention from traffic signs, signals or other regulatory devices.

Must Detail Plans

4. A minimum 18 foot clearance must be provided between the highway and the overhead devices so that traffic control devices will not be obscured.

Must Detail Plans

5. The municipalities must submit, with their permit applications, detailed plans for the banners, signs or decorations. The DPW district engineer then will determine if the device, its anchorage and design meet safety standards. The municipalities also must specify the dates when the overhead devices will be installed and removed.

In establishing these rules, Superintendent McMorran said, "it is not the department's intention to 'put a damper' on community celebrations or observances. But we do owe it to the public to see that its safety is assured and we owe it to the taxpayers of the entire state to make certain they shall not be penalized because a locality may have been careless in installing an overhead banner or decoration."

"I think," he added, "a mishap resulting from such a banner or decoration would do far more to hamper a community's holiday spirit than will the enforcement of sensible safety rules."

"We earnestly solicit the cooperation of all municipalities involved in this endeavor, so that their holidays or special celebrations will be unmarred by a preventable mishap," the Superintendent concluded.

An outline of the ban was first published in The Freeman on March 20. By the end of April the State Department of Public Works office was flooded with protests from Chambers of Commerce, business groups, legislators and others.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson (R) of Woodstock forwarded a strong note of protest to McMorran relative to the ruling. In his letter he vigorously protested the strict interpretation of the traffic law. He said the issuance of permits by the departments to applying municipalities, setting forth certain standards, would assure any need of protection to the motoring public.

Still Works at 90

WHITEFIELD, N.H. (AP) — Edward Allen Pierce, who entered the investment business as a $20-per-week clerk and now is the only surviving founder of the Wall Street brokerage house of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, celebrated his 90th birthday Monday by playing nine holes of golf.

Pierce still works a 7-hour day, starting at 9 a.m., five days a week.

Rondout National Bank Celebrates 116th Year

One of the oldest financial institutions in the area, Rondout National Bank, will celebrate its 116th anniversary this month. James A. Dwyer, bank president announced today.

The main office is at Broadway and Henry Street with a branch in Port Ewen.

The anniversary celebration will commence with an open house Saturday, Sept. 12 at the main offices on Broadway. Starting at 9 a. m. and ending at 3 p. m., the period of observance will continue until Sept. 30 with special awards climaxing the celebration.

During this period—and particularly on Sept. 12, everyone is invited to attend to see the new electronic bookkeeping system—the most modern technological advances in the banking industry, making possible speed and accuracy in keeping accounts in order.

In the lobby is a huge color mural with Kingston, the Hudson River and the Catskill Mountains serving as a backdrop, various historic and current landmarks, events and gems of interest are depicted. The enlarged new building, extra parking and two drive-in windows will be part of the tour for visitors. Refreshments and gifts for all will be a feature. A highlight — designed to have great popular appeal to all—is the awarding of five large cash prizes. Anybody is eligible to win. Details will be published shortly and posted in the lobby of the bank.

Reviewing the bank's history, Dwyer traced its origin to Ferry Street in 1848, in the Village of Rondout when the institution was called the Bank of Rondout. At a time when it served the boat-building industry, Rondout — now Kingston — was one of the largest inland shipbuilding ports in the United States. Most banking at that time was tied in with shipbuilding and the brick and cement industries.

In 1929 the bank building was enlarged to extend to East Strand, and finally in 1953 the present location on Broadway and Henry was developed. More recently the branch in Port Ewen was built to serve that particular area south of Kingston.

"Our total resources are in excess of 11 million dollars," Dwyer said, "and we are quite proud of the transition that now makes possible total and 100 per cent banking services to the community at large, including business and personal loans for purchase of autos, home remodeling and various types of checking and saving accounts. The entire community is invited to visit with us on Sept. 12th," Dwyer concluded, "and, of course, any time thereafter. On behalf of the board of directors and our entire staff we extend a hearty welcome."

Appraisers Will Meet Here Sept. 9

The Mid-Hudson Chapter No. 23, of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers will hold its first fall meeting, which will be a dinner meeting, at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday, September 9. A cocktail hour will be from 6 p. m. and buffet dinner served at 7 p. m.

A business meeting will follow and the guest speaker will be James Loeb of Weiner and Loeb, attorneys, who will talk on Condominium Ownership.

Reservations are necessary and must be made by Monday, September 7, by contacting Lawrence D. Benton, secretary, Fostertown Drive, Box 105, Newburgh, or Mrs. Adele Roybal, Route 1, Kingston.

Wise business associates and those interested in this current, popular topic on condominium ownership are cordially invited.

Local attorneys, banks, real estate brokers and appraisers are urged to attend the dinner meeting which will be of great importance. Mr. Loeb will also have a question and answer period.

Ashokan Area Reunion Slated For Labor Day

Residents and former residents of the Town of Olive are planning the 51st annual reunion and picnic Labor Day at Lambert's Grove, Boiceville.

When the City of New York came into the area 51 years ago and took large portions of the township for the Ashokan Reservoir, many residents either moved to other sites in the area or out of the area completely. The reunions were planned to keep in touch with former neighbors. An association was formed to make arrangements for the annual event.

Herbert Wells is president of the association; Robert W. Stoutenburgh, vice president and Elwyn C. Davis, secretary-treasurer, a post he has held for the past 40 years.

There will be picnic, a speaker and music. The Men's Club of Shokan will provide refreshments. The grove, now owned by Mrs. Joseph Friedberg, is near the Ontario Central School at Route 28-A.

120 Note Power Failures During Monday Showers

City Engineer's office reported about a half inch of rain fell in Kingston during a storm which lasted from 9:02 until shortly after 10 last night.

Power failures were noted by a total of 120 customers of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp.

More than 90 of these were residents of the Halcyon Park area in Lake Katrine, where Central Hudson servicemen worked for about an hour repairing damage.

Many Teachers Believe Discipline Difficult

WASHINGTON (AP) — A poll of teachers published Monday showed that many teachers — especially those with greater experience — think pupil discipline is harder to maintain now than when they started to teach.

The poll was conducted by the research division of the National Education Association and published in the NEA Journal.

'Bury' Barry Is Stand Taken by Organized Labor

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York State AFL-CIO has solidly endorsed President Johnson and called for organized labor to "bury" Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

As the 1,500 delegates meet again today on the second day of their three-day annual convention, still unresolved is whether they will support Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's bid for the U.S. Senate race in New York.

There is some support for incumbent Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, who won re-nomination Monday by state Republicans meeting in convention.

Keating speaks to the AFL-CIO convention today and Kennedy Wednesday.

A decision on the senatorial endorsement by the labor organization was put over until Wednesday.

As the labor convention opened, delegates unanimously endorsed President Johnson and his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. A bitter denunciation of Goldwater accompanied the endorsement of the president.

State President Raymond Corbett told the delegates, who represent two million union members in the state:

"The Republican elephant has one foot planted unsteady in the pseudo-liberal camp of Nelson Rockefeller, but the remaining three legs are chained to the John Birch Society, the Minute Men and other racial and religious bigots."

Corbett said Goldwater "is trying to repeal the 20th Century, but we are trying to live in it." He asserted "Neo-fascists" and "union-busters" had taken over the Republican Party.

When Louis Hollander, AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, departed from a report to urge endorsement of Kennedy for the Senate race, delegates broke in to applause and some pounded the tables.

Hollander said it was inconceivable that the labor convention could support the Johnson-Humphrey ticket and then endorse a Republican for senator.

Hudson Water Problems Seen Solved by Meters

The City of Hudson, which has been having water shortage difficulties, is now discussing the installation of water meters as a measure for solving the problem. The matter was taken up last night by the Street and Sewer committee of the common council.

Mayor Samuel T. Wheeler sent a communication to the Common Council recommending meters be installed as a measure for conserving water. He called for a self-sustaining water commission to be financed by water meters. The Hudson planning commission also called for conservation through the use of meters.

The meeting last night was closed to officials other than the members of the committee.

Hudson continues to pump water from Claverack Creek to augment its Churchtown Dam supply.

Jeanne Quinn, Long Island Girl Is Miss U.S.A.

DETROIT (AP) — "I thought Miss New York City had won," said Miss New York State, Jeanne Quinn, winner of Monday night's Miss U.S.A.-World Contest.

The confusion arose when master of ceremonies Philip Crosby identified Miss New York City as the winner.

Miss Quinn, a willowy 5-foot-8 blue-eyed blonde is from East Meadow, Long Island. Miss New York City, Ruth Stein, 20, is from Woodmere, L.I.

Crosby made a hasty correction.

Miss Quinn's title includes a trip to the Miss World Contest next month in London. She will compete with girls from all over the world for a $7,500 first prize.

The shapely 35-22-35 junior from Hofstra University in Long Island gave New York State its second straight representative in the Miss World Contest.

Michele Metrinko of New York City won the title in 1963 and was on hand to crown Miss Quinn.

Serious Crime On the Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI reports a 15 per cent increase in serious crime in the United States the first half of this year.

Increases were recorded in all sections of the country and in all categories of serious crime. Over the same period last year, Monday's report pointed up a 23 per cent increase in crime in suburban areas.

The Southern states showed an 18 per cent increase, the Northeast 15 per cent, the North-Central states 14 per cent and the Western states 11 per cent.

Rape increased 20 per cent,

Insurance Firm Lists Kerhonkson Man, Supervisor

A Kerhonkson resident, Leonard Pomerantz was named supervisor of the New York Life Insurance Co. general office in Poughkeepsie, it was announced today by Mark Crowley, general manager.

Pomerantz started as an agent in January of 1956 after being released by the United States Army. He served for several years after this as an active member of the National Guard as First Sergeant. A leading agent in the office for the past eight years, Pomerantz is currently a national leader in health insurance sales for 1964. Pomerantz has been a consistent club qualifier and is currently a member of the company's Top Club.

He attended local schools in Kerhonkson and resides in that town at 10 William Street with his wife, Carol, and three children.

Assuming his new duties today, Pomerantz will be essentially responsible for recruiting, training, and supervising new field underwriters in the Ulster County area as well as handling health insurance sales and promotion for the entire Poughkeepsie general office.

Baby Saved From Burning House

A 17-months old Hudson boy was saved Monday from the second floor of a burning house by a painter who rushed to the scene from across the street where a crew of painters was painting a house.

Douglas Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of 18 Aitken Avenue, was on the second floor of the Miller home when Mrs. Miller, who was downstairs vacuuming when a neighbor, Mrs. Clarence Card, notified the house was on fire. Mrs. Miller made an effort to reach the baby but was cut off by flames.

Her calls for help were heard by a painting crew across the street and Thomas Dinardi, his brother Nick, and Sisto DeLack carried a ladder across the street to the rear of the burning house and Thomas Dinardi smashed the window to the bedroom where the baby was and entered the smoke filled room. Guided by the screams of the child he reached the crib and fought his way through the smoke to the open window.

Meanwhile Hudson firemen arrived on the scene and saved the house from total destruction. The upper floor was badly damaged. How the fire started is not determined.

Gracie Allen Is Buried, Husband Near Collapse

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP) — Gracie Allen rests today in a Forest Lawn crypt following funeral services that brought near collapse for her husband, George Burns, and fellow comedian Jack Benny.

More than 1,300 persons, including some of show business' brightest luminaries, gathered Monday at the rites for the zany comedienne who delighted fans with cracks like:

"When I was born, I was so surprised I couldn't talk for a year and a half."

The petite, wide-eyed comedienne, 58, died Thursday of a heart attack.

The usually assured Benny broke down twice as he eulogized Gracie.

"The whole world loved Gracie Allen. The world also recognized her ability as a comedienne. In her performances, the world seemed to know what Gracie was talking about when she supposedly didn't."

"She deserved this recognition because she lived in a world of laughter which was partly her own creation."

Burns, weeping, was helped from Forest Lawn's Church of the Reconciliation by Benny and Burns' son Ronnie.

Miss Allen was born a Roman Catholic and practiced that faith, but the rites were Episcopal. A family friend explained:

"George wants to be buried with Gracie. Since he is Jewish, he cannot be buried in Catholic consecrated ground. So he figured that Episcopal rites would be a compromise, the closest thing to a Catholic ceremony."

Driver Burned In 9W Marlboro Truck Accident

John Mitchell, 28, a Jamaica, L. I., truckdriver, suffered second degree burns on his arms, legs and left ear before he could escape from his burning truck at Marlboro shortly after 7 a. m. today. He also received lacerations of the lower lip, a broken tooth and abrasions of the body when his truck went out of control and broke two utility poles. The truck and cargo were destroyed by fire.

Mitchell was traveling north on Route 9W when opposite the Catholic church in the village, his truck went off the east side of the road and struck two utility poles. The poles carried both telephone and electric wires. The truck immediately caught fire and despite the work of members of Marlboro Fire Department, the vehicle and its cargo of furniture and bedding was destroyed.

The truck was owned by the M & T Rental Company of Brooklyn.

Firemen from Marlboro fought the fire while members of the Marlboro Fire Police directed traffic. Traffic over 9W was held up for some 3 1/2 hours and was re-routed over village streets. The accident was investigated by Trooper Robert Anderson of the Highland station, who praised the work of the fire police in directing traffic.

Food Stamp Plan Signed to Help Diet of Families

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tanned and rested after a long weekend on his Texas ranch, President Johnson summoned Democratic congressional leaders to the White House today for an early morning review of legislative strategy.

Congress is heading toward a close and with the election approaching, Johnson is eager for passage of that part of his program that remains in the legislative mill.

Monday night, a scant half hour after a helicopter deposited him on the White House grounds, the President signed into law a priority measure approved by the Senate and the House — a nationwide food stamp plan to improve the diet of needy families.

Promoted also by his predecessor, the late President John F. Kennedy, the food stamp plan permits qualifying families to buy $10 worth of food stamps for $6 on the average. Then they can use the stamps in the corner grocery for many more food items than the surplus commodities they have had to carry from the distribution centers. Sponsors stressed both the convenience and the variety of foods.

Charge 4 Negroes With Slaying of Carolina Officer

RAEFORD, N.C. (AP) — Four Negroes were charged today in the slaying of a North Carolina highway patrolman who attempted to arrest one of them last Monday.

Trooper W.T. Herbin's body was found in a cornfield off U.S. 401 near his patrol car. He had been shot three times in the forehead, with bullets fired from his own revolver.

Rae Ford Police Chief L. W. Stanton said Willie Smith Jr., about 35, confessed to the shooting after several hours of questioning. Stanton said Smith was charged with murder.

Murder charges also were filed against three other Pinehurst Negroes, Will Allan, Albert Reeves and Rudy Clegg Bruton. Smith and Bruton were held at the Hoke County Jail in Raeford and Reeves and Allan were taken to nearby Moore County.

Held Without Bond

All were held without bond pending a hearing in Raeford on Sept. 8.

It was believed the trooper had stopped Smith's car for a routine investigation. Stanton said Herbin apparently tried to arrest Smith after finding him intoxicated.

Stanton said Smith told officers the trooper stopped their car about 12 miles north of Raeford. Herbin, 32, tried to arrest Smith, who had been driving, and a fight followed, Stanton said.

Shot in Field

In the fight, Herbin, Smith and the other men left the roadside and went into the cornfield, Stanton said, where the trooper was shot.

Col. David T. Lambert, patrol commander, had ordered a statewide alert after Herbin's body was found.

Lambert said Trooper J.E. Dupree arrested Allen near a ranger station on the sprawling Ft. Bragg military reservation near Raeford.

Lambert said Reeves was arrested a short time later, further along a road near Southern Pines. Bruton and Smith were found asleep in bed at home in the Taylortown section of Pinehurst.

No Hope in Sight

GENEVA (AP) — U.S. Secretary-General U Thant said today he saw no hope for a solution of the Cyprus crisis in the near future.

FBI to Watch Northern Riots for All Facts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI has received instructions from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to keep a close watch on Northern racial disturbances after a weekend rioting in Philadelphia and earlier disturbances elsewhere.

A Justice Department spokesman said Monday that Kennedy told the FBI "to watch these disturbances to the full extent of our authority and responsibility and to keep in the closest touch with local authorities in order to ascertain all of the relevant facts."

On Sunday, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asked Kennedy in a telegram to investigate the possibility that the riots have been planned.

President Johnson earlier had ordered the FBI to investigate rioting in Harlem, New York City's Negro district.

State Garden Club Sets Third Course At Latham School

Third District, Federated Garden Clubs of New York State Inc. will present Course III, Flower Show School for exhibitors and judges Sept. 22, 23, and 24 at the Calvary Methodist Church education building in Latham.

The course, planned according to the curriculum set up by the National Council of State Clubs, covers the three basic phases of amateur flower shows—growing, exhibiting and judging of horticulture; flower show practice encompassing the organization and staging of shows; color and design in flower arranging as well as exhibiting and judging artistic designs.

The course is one of five leading to nationally accredited amateur flower show judges certification. It may also be taken as a refresher course by accredited judges.

Mrs. W. R. King of Schenectady, chairman of the school, points out that attendance at the school is not limited to those wishing to qualify as judges. Garden club flower show committee personnel and exhibitors alike are urged to attend.

Lectures are scheduled as follows: Sept. 22 at 9 a. m., methods of growing exhibition materials with emphasis on judging and growing fruits, vegetables, cacti, and other succulents; 2 p. m., duties of the classification, entry chairman, judges and clerks; Wednesday, Sept. 23 at 10 a. m., flower arranging design, emphasis on line form, pattern, stressing balance; 1 p. m., color in flower arranging, emphasis on monochromatic harmony.

Examinations will take place Sept. 24 by those wishing credit toward judges' certificates or by judges needing refresher certificates.

Luncheon will be served all three days by the ladies of the Calvary Methodist Church for those making reservations.

Elizabeth A. Harder, Wayne F. Kelder Take Their Marriage Vows in Hurley

On Saturday, Aug. 29 at 2 p. m. in the Hurley Reformed Church, marriage vows were exchanged by Elizabeth Ann Harder of Hurley and Wayne Franklin Kelder of Accord. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Arthur J. Harder and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin S. Kelder.

Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Harold Schadewald.

Given in marriage by her brother John R. Harder, the bride wore a princess gown of Alencon lace and faulle fashioned with a fitted bodice, three quarter length sleeves and a scooped neckline. The gown featured a flowing train and she wore a headpiece of silken bows and loops recombined with iridescent pearls. The bride carried a cascade of Georgiana orchids, stephanotis and white pompons with streamers.

Mrs. Robert Kelder of Kripplush was the matron of honor. Attendants were Mrs. Lars Hagen of Glens Falls, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Ronald Quarantino of Kingston and Miss Susan Harder of Hurley, the bride's cousin. All wore empire gowns of Spanish gold fashioned with fitted bodices, mid-length sleeves and circlet necklines. The skirts were floor length and featured back bows with long panels. They also wore matching bows with fly-away tulle veils. The honor attendant carried a colonial bouquet of deep bronze mums while the attendants carried light bronze pompons.

Carolyn Harder of Hurley, the bride's niece, served as flower girl in a Spanish gold frock. She also wore a wreath of tiny carnations in blending shades and carried a firsided basket of mixed colors.

S. Robert Kelder of Kripplush, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Lars Hagen of Glens Falls, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Robert Burke of Hamlin, N. Y., and Everett Dinack of Peru, N. Y. William Harder Jr., of Kingston, the bride's nephew, was ring-bearer.

A reception was given in the Nieuw Dorp in Hurley for approximately 180 guests.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and Albany Medical Center, School of Nursing. She is employed in Pediatrics at the Kingston Hospital. Her husband, an alumnus of the Rondout Valley High School, received his BS degree at Cornell University. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and is owner and manager of Jaway Farms in Accord.

DECLINING PREVIOUS ENGAGEMENT

Q: Can I possibly decline an invitation I've already accepted? A friend called and invited my husband and me to come to their house. She didn't mention anything about anyone else coming and I thought it would just be the four of us. I have since found out that she has invited two other couples. One of the other guests happens to be a woman I do not like and would rather not be in her company. Is there any way out of this situation?

A: If your feeling for this woman are such that you cannot at least make a pretense of being polite and amiable toward her, you can telephone your hostess and explain the situation to her and say that in order to avoid embarrassment to her and spoiling the evening for the others, you and your husband had better drop out.

Prefers Staying at Hotel

Q: My son is going to be married in another city. His bride-to-be has invited my husband and me to stay at her parents' house. We would both much prefer to stay at a hotel. Would it be rude not to accept her invitation?

A: It will not be rude, and in fact, will probably be a relief to her parents, if you say that the bride's house is before the wedding, you think it will be better if you and your husband stayed at a hotel.

In Place of Flowers

Q: When the family of the deceased requests that flowers be omitted, in what way can friends show their sympathy beyond merely expressing it verbally or by note?

A: In lieu of flowers, Catholics often send spiritual bouquets or have a mass said for the deceased. Also many people make a donation in memory of the deceased, especially if there was a charity or cause in which he or she was personally interested.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers books on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have the booklet entitled, "The Bride's Trouseau," send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column. (A Bell-McClure Syndicate Feature)

Catholics to Form Young Adults Club; Meeting Wednesday

Unmarried Catholics between the ages of 18 and 35 will meet Wednesday 7:30 p. m. at St. Mary's School to organize an Ulster County chapter of the Catholic Young Adults Club.

Groups of this nature have already been founded in all of the other 10 counties of the New York Archdiocese. Their aim is a balanced program of spiritual, social, cultural, apostolic activities under Catholic auspices.

More than 60 Ulster County youngsters have made reservations at the Hotel Commodore in New York City for the annual Catholic Youth Organization teen-age convention. The Nov. 6-7 weekend will consist of workshops, elections, presentations, a banquet, cotillion and Convention Mass.

Officers of Ulster County CYO include president, Paul Geary of St. Mary's; vice president, Kathleen Scherrer of St. Francis De Sales, Phoenixia; secretary, Michelle Wieder, Immaculate Conception; treasurer, Betsy Cooke, St. Joseph's and program chairman, Dianne Frangello, St. Mary's of the Snows, Saugerties.

Umpleby-Hughes Wedding Is Announced; Ceremony in Fair Street Reformed Church

Miss Susan Stewart Umpleby, daughter of Mrs. Mary Umpleby of 180 Washington Avenue, this city, and the late Robert G. Umpleby, exchanged marriage vows with Gordon Ernest Hughes of Elmira, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hughes of 18 Howland Avenue.

The marriage ceremony took place on Saturday, Aug. 29, 1964 at 3 p. m. in the Fair Street Reformed Church. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Edwin C. Coon. Traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. William Rylance, organist, and Mrs. Geraldine Nathan, soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin Robert Esher of Towson, Md. She wore a gown of white tulle and faulle in modified princess style fashioned with an empire bodice, three quarter length sleeves and a bateau neckline. Bands of peau d'ange lace enhanced the midriff and a back bow secured a removable Watteau train. The triple tiered silk illusion veil was shirred to a bridal coronet of lace and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet with pompons and white roses.

Miss Gloria Riccadelli of Glens Falls was the matron of honor.

A reception was given at the Twaalfskill Club.

Mrs. Hughes was graduated from State University College, Potsdam. She is a member of Alpha Delta Sorority and plans to teach in Elmira. Her husband, an alumnus of Clarkson College, is a mechanical engineer and member of Omicron Pi Omicron Fraternity. He is employed as a junior engineer by Bendix Eclipse in Elmira.

Kingston Concert Band Will Play Final Performance

On Wednesday night the Kingston Concert Band, under the direction of Marlin E. Morrette, will give the final concert of the summer series at Academy Green beginning at 8 o'clock.

In case of rain the concert will be postponed one week to Wednesday, Sept. 9.

Because of popular demand the concert will include many marches by the "March King," John Philip Sousa.

After the intermission, Miss Judy Gruber and Miss Linda Policano, will be featured as twirlers during the playing of Meredith Wilson's "Seventy Six Trombones."

Also appearing on this final program will be several guest conductors.

Donald Slater will conduct "The High School Cadets" by Sousa; Miss Dianne Rifenburg will lead "The Gladiator March" by Sousa; Al Rossi, "King Cotton March" by Sousa; Lee Herrington will direct "Estrellita" by Manuel M. Ponce; Winthrop Emmons "The Thunderer March" by Sousa and Harry Maisenholder will lead "The Washington Post March" by Sousa.

During the second half of the program, Reginald Deyo will perform as vocal soloist and lead the audience in community singing of several well-known, and patriotic songs.

The public is invited to attend without charge.

Household Employees Are Covered By Social Security

"Maids and babysitters—protect your rights." This advice comes from George Habernig, social security district manager in Kingston.
He says that many housewives and homeowners are unaware that household employees are covered by social security. This and the subsequent failure of employers to make earnings reports have caused many maids and other household employees to lose valuable retirement and disability benefits which were rightfully theirs.

"Household employees" include maids, babysitters, cooks, gardeners, and others who work in or around a private home. Habernig said that each of these persons has a definite responsibility to see that his or her employer makes proper earnings reports. A report is due at the end of any quarter in which the worker is paid as much as $50 in cash by one employer. The social security tax is shared equally by the worker and the employer. The present tax rate is 3% per cent from each.

To protect your rights to social security benefits, Habernig urges you to get in touch with his office to make sure your employer is making correct reports.

The social security office for this area is located at 57 Albany Avenue, Kingston.

Poughkeepsie Man Named to Post At IBM Kingston

JOHN A. KAUFFMANN

The appointment of John A. Kauffmann of Poughkeepsie to manager of market development—public services industries at IBM's Data Processing Division. In his new position, Kauffmann will be responsible for all market development activities in the business services, communications, medical, public utilities and state and local government industry areas.

Kauffmann joined IBM in November 1954 as a technical engineer in IBM 760 engineering at Poughkeepsie. Assigned to the IBM Research organization as a junior engineer in magnetic core research in 1955, he became an associate engineer one year later. He was promoted to staff engineer in real time channel development in late 1958, and to project engineer in that area in 1959.

In April 1961, he was promoted to development engineer in airlines systems engineering. He was named manager of IBM 7000 series contact systems the following year, and transferred to the Kingston plant in that capacity in March 1963. Promoted to senior engineer and manager of airlines systems engineering and programming in mid-1963, he has held the post until his present appointment.

Kauffmann is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers. He received a bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering from Villanova University.

He, his wife Jane, and children John, 8; Virginia, 6; Christine, 4; and Mark, 1; reside at 31 Colburn Drive, Poughkeepsie.

Jewish New Year Greetings Given By Rocky, Mayor

Gov. Rockefeller and Kingston's Mayor John J. Schwenk today offered New Year greetings to the Jewish people, who will begin the year 5725 in the Hebrew calendar next Sunday.

The governor said in a message today the "unalterable devotion" of Jews to the faith of their fathers had kept them together through 37 centuries, while many more numerous and once prosperous races have disappeared.

"All Americans," the governor said, "have reason to be proud of our country's part in establishing the position that Jewry holds today."

Mayor Schwenk said: "I wish to add my best wishes for a happy New Year to all my neighbors of the Jewish faith and feel certain that all other residents of our city share with me this expression of good fellowship."

Linda Paige Bell Weds Donald T. Blain

Miss Linda Paige Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Bell of Accord, exchanged marriage vows with Donald Thomas Blain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Blain of Buffalo on Saturday, Aug. 22 at a 2 p. m. ceremony in the Rochester Reformed Church. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Robert Perry, Organist for the occasion was Percy W. Gazlay and Jack Smead was the soloist.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums. The pews were marked with white ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of organza posed over a tulle skirt with a long length bell skirt. The gown featured a short jacket with butterfly sleeves. The bride wore a bridal crown of nylon and seed pearls and a triple tiered silk illusion veil. She carried a prayer book with white cymbidium orchids and delphinium flowers.

Carol Sue Coddington of Accord was maid of honor. She wore a gown of maize chiffon styled with empire bodice, mid-length sleeves and a bateau neckline. The high waist was encircled with matching velvet ribbon. A large bow headpiece held a circular tulle veil. Miss Coddington carried a cascade bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses with white iceberg pompons.

Attendants were Donna MacWilliams of Poughkeepsie and Susan Blain of Buffalo, sister of the bridegroom. Their green gowns were identical in style to that worn by the honor attend-

Ask Washington For Milk Hike Due to Drought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department had before it today a plea that it act soon on a proposed milk price increase because of drought conditions.

The plea came Monday from a committee of dairymen who supply the New York-New Jersey federal milk marketing area.

A five-member committee conferred with Assistant Secretary of Agriculture George L. Mehren and Clarence H. Girard, deputy administrator in charge of federal milk marketing order programs.

Girard said a decision might be announced late this week or early next week.

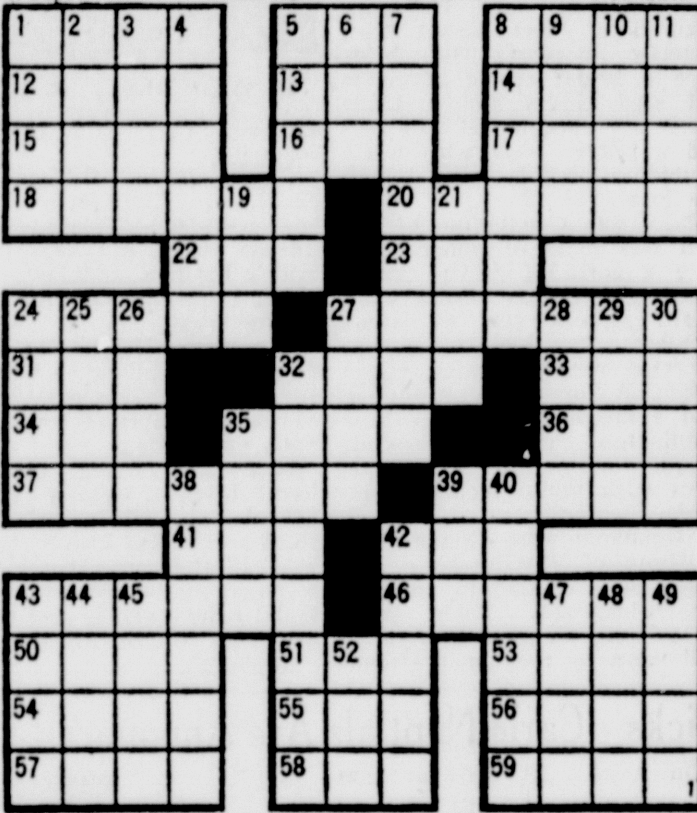

Producer groups have asked for an increase of between 28 and 48 cents a hundredweight (46.5 quarts) in the minimum producer price for class I fluid milk. This is slightly less than one cent a quart.

Committee members said Monday that dairymen in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania area have had to feed cows more expensive mixed grains because pastures dried up during this summer's hot weather. This, they said, has driven production costs up sharply.

Dear Abby . . .

Political Impasse!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have always avoided political arguments with our friends, but in recent weeks my husband and I have drawn into several. The last was at our home. When my husband learned that our out-of-town house guests who had been his lifelong friend, was on the other side of the fence politically, he was astounded. A hot argument took place, which ended a friendship of many years. I say a person's political belief, like his religion, is his own business, and should not interfere with friendship. My husband says I am wrong—a person's political belief is an index to his character, and reveals his compassion (or lack of it) for his fellow man. He says he wants no part of friends who support the line of thinking that one political party is now supporting. I would like your opinion.

ARTS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If the matter of compassion is clearly evident in one side or the other, your husband is right. And where can one better practice compassion than with a friend? I say, stay in contact, talk it out, be sure of your facts, and don't become emotional. To end the friendship would also end all hope of educating a probably well-intentioned, but misguided citizen.

DEAR ABBY: I was going steady with a boy I thought a lot of, but whenever we were alone he would try to get fresh with me. I always managed to keep him in his place for a while, but not for very long.

I finally asked him if he was going with me because he thought that in time he might be able to break down my will power. He said, no, that he really loved me. He never called after that. Do you think he is angry because I doubted his love? Or do you think I was right about him in the first place? What should I do now?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Quit wondering. You were right about him in the first place. Forget him.

DEAR ABBY: After putting up with an impossible man for nine years, I finally got a divorce. We separated several times, but I always went back to him because of the children, who are now four and seven. I agreed to let him pick up the children at ten Sunday mornings and bring them back at seven. Now I would like to put a stop to it for the following reasons: It seems that my former husband has several girl friends, and each Sunday he takes the children to one of their homes. One Sunday the children reported that "Daddy was acting lovey-dovey with a red-haired lady." Another Sunday they said, "Daddy was acting lovey-dovey with a yellow-haired lady." Need I say more? Also, he has brought them home as late as ten. I don't think this is the proper atmosphere for young children. What can be done?

THEIR MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A call to your lawyer is in order. Daddy is out of line.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CLAUDE IN HIGH-POINT": The best time to tell the boss off is some other.

City Library Announces New Films Available

The Kingston City Library, beginning today, will be receiving one and one-half hours of the new color sound films every week from the Modern Talking Picture Service of New York. These films will be on a variety of subjects and may be borrowed free of charge from the library.

Don Sager, the library director, noted that this service was obtained by the library at no cost. It is especially useful to organizations and clubs in this area, he said, for although the library normally has films available because of loans for other clubs, it can now guarantee that the library will always have films available for use immediately.

In the event of sudden program changes, or rained-out activities the library can be contacted for films during its regular hours, 10:30 to 8:30 Monday through Friday, and 1 to 5, Saturdays. Sager added that the library usually has a great deal more than one and one-half hours of films and noted that the following titles are temporarily in the library for loan:

Films Are Listed

Secrets of a Volcano, 20 minutes, color, describes volcanoes.
Eruption of Kilauea, 20 minutes, color, shows a real volcano in action.
Bay at the Moon, 30 minutes, color, a highly recommended hunting film showing a number of exciting chases.
Collectors Item, 30 minutes, color, shows the activities of a department of public works.
Secrets of the Ice, shows glaciers and ice sheets.
Where the Future Begins, 20 minutes, color, describes the development of industry and labor in Israel.
Twenty-four Hours, 30 minutes, color, shows the activities of a labor union's business agent.
Pursuit of Happiness, 30 minutes, color, shows the operation of a labor union.
Land of Promise, 30 minutes, color, tells the history of labor.
Change or Challenge, 30 minutes, color, shows the work of the U. S. Department of Labor.
JFK's Last Words to Labor, 30 minutes, color.
Turn the Wheel West, 30 minutes, color, a tour of the great national parks of the west.
Decision, 20 minutes, color.
Fun, Sun and Vacation, 30 minutes, color, a travelogue.
The Game Nobody Saw, 30 minutes, color, spring training with the St. Louis Cardinals, commentary by Stan Musial.

Gilligan After Magoo

Backus Is Only Double-Threat On Two Networks

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A few months ago an NBC vice president, apparently the one in charge of station breaks, telephoned Jim Backus, the actor who plays the voice of Mr. Magoo in the network's new half-hour comedy starring the near-sighted cartoon character.

"Do you want to drop over to the studio and make voice-over promotion for the end of your show telling the audience to stay tuned to 'Kentucky Jones'?" asked the vice president.

"No," said Backus promptly. "I don't want to. I don't want them to stay tuned to NBC. I want them to switch to CBS."

The vice president, obviously shaken, murmured that he'd get back to Backus. He never did.

The actor had a valid reason for his firm refusal: Jim Backus is also a star in a new CBS show, "Gilligan's Island," which follows "The Famous Adventures of Mr. Magoo" on the rival network.

This makes Backus television's only double-threat, two-network, performer. It would be difficult to replace Backus in "Mr. Magoo" since he has played it since the little fellow was created as a theater cartoon about 18 years ago. "I AM Magoo," he says.

"The Famous Adventures of Mr. Magoo" is a spin-off of NBC's special "Mr. Magoo's Christmas Carol," in which the little character played Ebenezer Scrooge. During the next few months he'll be playing Rip Van Winkle, Friar Tuck, Long John Silver, all the seven dwarfs, Don Quixote, Captain Jack, Cyrano, William Tell and Gunga-

Din, among others, in adaptations of famous stories. In the comedy series "Gilligan's Island," Backus will be playing a millionaire cast-away, one of seven survivors of a shipwreck, who continues to live in country club style in spite of his surroundings and problem of survival.

Backus, who started his radio career almost 30 years ago, made his first television splash 11 years ago with "I Married Joan," in which he played straight man to the late Joan Davis. The series is still around in re-runs, and so is another series he made later. Then there are all the Magoo shows seen in assorted children's hours, plus a raft of commercials starring the character.

Local 4-Hers Will Compete at State
Fair in Syracuse

This year many Ulster County 4-H Club members will compete at the State Exposition held in Syracuse, Aug. 30 through Sept. 7.

The 4-H Club activities at Syracuse are held in and around the Boys and Girls Building on the Fair grounds. 4-H Livestock are shown and judged in a special new showing area.

Exhibits for the State Exposition have been selected on a competitive basis. Every exhibit is entered in State competition was a top blue award winner at the Ulster County Fair held Aug. 19 and 20. Those 4-H Club members participating in judging contests were selected on the basis of scores of similar contests held throughout the summer. Selection to represent the County at the State Exposition is an honor for 4-H Club members.

This year a 4-H Dairy Judging Team, 4-H Horse Judging Team, 4-H Crops Judging teams will compete in the various judging contests. Seven Dairy cattle exhibits and two dress review models, two demonstrators, plus many other homemaking exhibits have also been entered in this year's Exposition.

The Dairy Judging team is composed of William Dietrich of Wallkill; Howard Riley, New Hurley; Gretchen Franck, Wallkill; and Douglas McCord, Shawangunk. The Dairy Judging Contest is Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

The Horse Judging Team is composed of Loretta Port, Sawkill; Jill Abrahamson, New Paltz; Diane Rowe, Kingston; Norman Gaffney, Kingston. The Horse Judging Contest is Sunday night, Sept. 6th.

The Crops Judging Team members are Susan Briggs, Hurley; Jean Gaffney, Kingston; William Hurley; Gretchen Franck, Wallkill; and Mark Dietrich of Wallkill. The Crops Contest is scheduled for Sept. 3.

Two Ulster County 4-H Club members will compete in the Tractor Operators Contest held Thursday morning, September 3. The two contestants are Ralph VanAken Jr. of Stone Ridge and Vinton Wynkoop of Kerhonkson.

Seven dairy animals owned by County 4-H Club members will be exhibited this year. They are: Bruce McCord, Wallkill, Jersey three-year old; Gary Maier, Wallkill, Holstein senior yearling; Ruth Gerham, Wallkill, Jersey junior yearling; Paul Franck, Wallkill, Holstein junior yearling; Gretchen Franck,

HORSE JUDGING ENTRANTS—Four Ulster County Fair finalists will represent county 4-H Clubs in the Horse Judging Contests at the State Exposition in Syracuse on Sept. 6. They are (l-r) Diane Rowe and Norman Gaffney, both Kingston; Jill Abrahamson, New Paltz; and Loretta Port, Sawkill. Other local entrants will be competing in Dairy Judging and Crops Judging contests and will participate in demonstrations and exhibits.

Wallkill, Holstein two-year old; Karen Bruhlman, Wallkill, Jersey senior calf; and Nancy Warren, High Falls, Jersey aged cow.

Many Ulster County girls will exhibit this year in the 4-H Home Economics area at the State Exposition. Four of these girls will compete in person at Syracuse. Judy Lyke, Lomontville and Martha Nickerson, Kingston will present demonstrations on Thursday, September 3 and Judy Lyke and Genevieve Switz, also of Lomontville will participate in the dress revue on September 5.

Other homemaking exhibits include: Canned Foods, Fran Pampinella, Highland; Charlene Meyer, St. Remy; Jams and Jellies: Joann McCord, Wallkill; Fran Embree, Stone Ridge; Susan Schoonmaker, High Falls and Donna Palen, Wallkill. Slate Kid's Day
Wednesday at Ross
Park, Port Ewen

Children of the Port Ewen area will be guests of the Port Ewen Fire Department at Ross Memorial Park Wednesday afternoon and evening, when Annual Kid's Day will be observed.

This "Fantasy of Fun" will get under way at 3 p. m. and continue until 9 p. m. The affair is open to all children of the Port Ewen area.

Robert Toogood, chairman of the event, says the entertainment program will be open to all. The program includes high aerialist acts, a youth champion trampolinist, a high diving act and performing animals.

There will be no admission charge and both afternoon and evening programs will be free. There will be a nominal charge for food and rides.

Proceeds of the event will be used for a building addition to the Port Ewen firehouse.

Woman Has Fatal Fall

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP) — Miss Mary Maloney, 63, was injured fatally Monday in a fall from the porch of the house where she lived.

Dr. John Sherman, coroner, said the woman apparently became dizzy and fell six feet. She died of a skull fracture, he reported.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the more sedate forms of show business is becoming a major marketing tool of industry. It is the trade show. Increasingly the accent is on the instant sell.

And the more complicated and competitive the U.S. economy becomes, the more are business firms, large and small, turning to the trade show as a prime way to introduce new products that technology spawns.

Salesmen say it all stems back to the increasing pole that engineers and scientists play in industry.

Before the war there were about 500 major shows a year. This year the Association of National Advertisers expect to see nearly 2,500 trade shows strung across the nation, with more than 850,000 firms displaying their wares, old and new. Dun & Bradstreet estimates the shows will cost a record $3 billion.

An increasing number of products are being sold, or contracted for, right on the floor of the exhibitions by purchasing agents who have taken this way of seeing all, or most of, the competitive products under one roof.

This year's National Motor Boat Show in New York reported $40 million in sales; officials of the International Automobile Show in New York said sales came to $80 million. Arthur Smadbeck, president of the New York Coliseum where these shows were held, says the three reasons for the rapid postwar expansion of the trade show are increasing complexity of technology, the growth of a large mass leisure market and the spawning of new businesses.

Dietaphone Corp. officials say their company participates in from 80 to 100 shows each year, with the exhibits stressing new products.

The International Exposition

Company has a plastic card imprinter device to help exhibitors at the Exposition of Chemical Industries and the Heating and Air Conditioning Exposition identify visitors. The device allows each firm to keep a record of interested prospects.

Computer tabulations of show attendance this year are giving exhibitors statistical summaries of attendance, with visitors classified by industry, type of firm, and job title.

Show managers used to take up to five weeks to furnish this breakdown. With the new electronic equipment the job can now be done within 24 hours.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 1, the 245th day of 1964. There are 121 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1916, Congress passed the first child labor law, prohibiting interstate commerce in products of child labor. Two years later the Supreme Court ruled the act was unconstitutional, an illegal invasion of states' rights.

On this date in 1850, the "Swedish Nightingale," Jenny Lind, arrived in New York.

In 1932, James J. Walker resigned as mayor of New York City.

In 1947, President Harry Truman arrived in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, on a state visit.

Ten years ago—The 36th national convention of the American Legion was being held in Washington, D.C.

Five years ago—the nation's major commercial banks raised their prime interest rates — charged customers with the best credit rating—from 4½ to 5 per cent.

One year ago — More than 100,000 demonstrators in Yokosuka and Sasebe, Japan marched in protest against a proposed visit by American nuclear-powered submarines.

Calm While Khanh Recuperates, But More Riots Brew

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Ailing Premier Nguyen Khanh hopes to return to work in a few days. During his absence, a relative calm has prevailed, but student leaders threaten new mass demonstrations. Communist guerrillas appear to be marking time.

Khanh's health broke during the government crisis last week, and he was temporarily replaced by a civilian, Dr. Nguyen Xuan Oanh, who became acting premier.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor visited Khanh Monday at Dalat, a mountain resort where Khanh went after last week's Roman Catholic — Buddhist rioting. Taylor said the premier expected to return to Saigon within a few days "and resume his formal duties as head of the government."

Two Viet Cong companies ambushed a government patrol in Kien Phong Province Sunday and one American officer was wounded during 80 minutes of fighting. Six Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 11 wounded in the engagement, about 60 miles west of Saigon.

Otherwise, the Viet Cong have shown little activity, but trouble was expected. One American adviser said, "It always takes the Viet Cong a week or so to react and exploit internal trouble on the government side." Intelligence reports estimated that more than 20,000 Viet Cong are gathered in the Saigon area and there were fears they might strike at the capital.

Two other Americans, an officer and an enlisted man, were injured Sunday when their jeep hit a mine on a highway 20 miles west of Saigon.

The newly formed Leadership Council of Saigon students threatened mass demonstrations if the country's three ruling generals appoint men to the promised National Assembly who are unacceptable to the students.

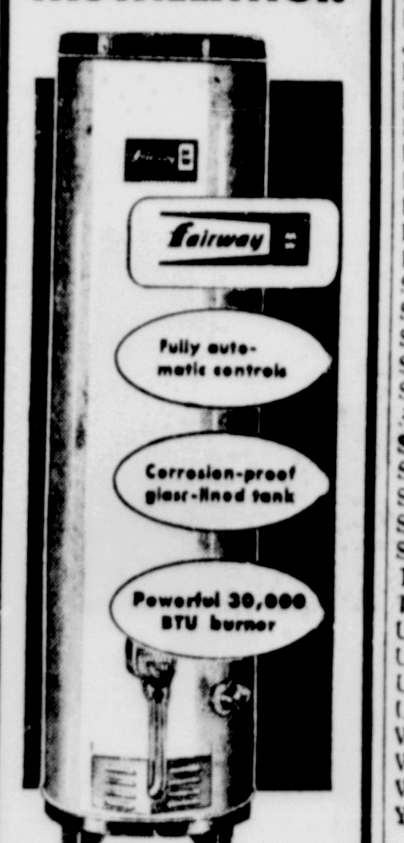

In addition to appointing Oanh, the triumvirate agreed to appoint a representative National Assembly within two months. The assembly is supposed to elect a new chief of state.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, Tobacco and other industrials rose moderately early this afternoon, pacing the stock market to a moderate advance.

Utilities and rails were not in gear with the industrial section, displaying a mixed pattern.

Trading was considerably livelier than Monday, however. Chrysler, threatened anew with a possible strike Sept. 9 if it does not satisfy demands of the United Auto Workers, was wobbly in early trading when it sank nearly a point, but recovered and edged to the upside.

Most other motors were higher. Chemicals, aerospace issues, nonferrous metals and rubbers also gained. Airlines were lower on balance, oils mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 314.6 with industrials up 1.0, rails up .1 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.46 at 841.94.

More Contestants Are Named In Miss Saugerties Pageant

The names of three additional contestants in this year's Miss Saugerties Pageant were announced this week. The pageant is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 19 at 8:30 p. m., in Saugerties High School auditorium.

Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the annual event announced that 10 Saugerties young ladies have accepted nominations in this year's pageant.

In this most recent grouping are Beth Offermann, Joan A. Misasi and Gail Bauer.

Miss Offermann is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Offermann of Virginia Avenue. She is a senior in Saugerties High and majoring in business. The talent presentation of the five feet, six inch blue-eyed blonde will be in interpretative dance. During the summer she has been employed in her father's gift shop on Partition Street.

Her hobbies include horseback riding, dancing and bowling. While at school, she has been girls sports editor of the school newspaper and student photographer for the Sawyer, yearbook.

At ceremonies in East Berlin. The Western powers refuse to recognize the Communist-run East German government because it was set up by the Russians after the war.

Ulbricht assailed the West German government, asserting it was full of militarists and imperialists ready to risk World War III to regain the territories Germany lost in World War II.

He made it clear that Germany can be reunited only on Communist terms.

No More War Is Aim

In West Germany, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard observed the anniversary by declaring that Germans want nothing more to do with war.

In a radio speech Monday, Erhard said: "The Germans — of this I am certain — have learned from horrible experience and their whole longing is to achieve a true peace."

We Germans will be specially reminded of the disaster of 1939, which was unleashed in our name by a brutal ruler. We must own up to this historical fact."

Anniversary rallies also were held Monday. The Polish Press Agency said the largest gathering was at Bytom, Upper Silesia, attended by 100,000 persons.

Edward Gierke, a member of the Polish Communist party's Politburo, told the rally: "We bow our heads to all our sisters and brothers who fall in the defense of this fatherland in that unequal fight."

Security Mentioned

Gierke said Poland's security now is guaranteed by the "material and defensive strength of the entire Socialist (Communist) camp, especially of the Soviet Union."

At dusk in Warsaw Monday night, a solemn roll call of soldiers who died in the early hours of the war was read at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier by Gen. Jozef Dzialada, commander of the Warsaw garrison. After each name, drums beat a funeral cadence and a military honor guard chanted, "they fell on the field of glory."

Polish Defense Minister Marshal Marian Spychalski Monday was permitted to use the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia to remind the Russians it was their secret police who weakened the Polish Communist party on the eve of World War II by killing many of its leaders.

Cooper was issued a summons for failure to keep right and will appear before Police Justice Schirmer of Saugerties later.

65 Million Russians Return to Schools

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's 65 million students returned to school today as the long summer vacation came to an end.

Soviet youngsters must attend school for 10 years starting at the age of 7, although many go to kindergarten.

The Soviet Union counts everyone a student who receives some sort of instruction, whether in a university classroom or by correspondence course.

Water Use Ban Continues Here Despite Rainfall

The ban on unnecessary use of village water invoked by Mayor William Ziegler Monday will continue despite the heavy rainfall in the Saugerties area yesterday.

Mayor Ziegler said today, the rain helped but did not replenish the reservoir supply at Blue Mountain enough to take off the ban.

The ban prohibits the watering of lawns, car washing, filling of swimming pools and other unnecessary uses of water. The mayor said yesterday that for the first time in many years the flow of excess water over the Blue Mountain Reservoir dam has stopped.

He said there are still some residents who are not heeding the warning. Some were noticed using lawn sprinklers yesterday.

Official rainfall measured at Cooper Lake Kingston Reservoir at Lake Hill was 68 inches yesterday. The total for August was 2.28 inches. Blue Mountain measured 97 inches.

At Ashokan Gatehouse, the New York City reservoir, .04 inches was recorded for yesterday and .64 inches at Schoharie Reservoir.

AF Loses Track

dictate an early shutdown of the stage, which could have knocked out communications.

Bleymaier said that, even if the motor cut off early, the third stage may have achieved enough speed to attain orbit.

He said tracking stations were attempting to locate the vehicle, in case it did attain orbit.

Bleymaier said that, even if this goal was not achieved, the rocket had met 95 per cent of its test goals on this first flight.

Its assignment was to hurl its third stage — a new rocket called a transstage — into orbit about 115 miles above the earth.

Other Stages

The transstage was to kick loose a 3,750-pound cylinder-shaped satellite as it passed over the Gulf of Mexico at the end of one 10-minute orbit.

The dummy satellite was to follow approximately the same orbital path, moving along in front of its orbiting launch platform.

Halfway through the first orbit, above Australia, the transstage platform was to execute a unique space somersault — flipping completely around 360 degrees — to align its stabilizing gyroscopes properly.

GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater wound up six days of cruising off the California coast Monday. He planned to kick off his presidential campaign in Prescott, Ariz., on Thursday.

Goldwater's opponent, President Johnson, returned to the capital Monday night after a long weekend in Texas.

Johnson is expected to open his election drive with a Labor Day speech in Detroit.

Democrats Have Some Organization Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—The Democrats ran into some organizational problems for their convention here today.

State headquarters said that the delegates from Ontario, Oswego and Orleans counties and the First Assembly District of Oneida County would not be seated.

The secretary of state refused to certify delegates from those areas because of failure to conform to technical requirements for filing petitions.

The four areas were to have had a total of 20 votes.

Faces Forgery Charge

John Farrell, 46, of Loch Sheldrake, Sullivan County, was picked up in Ellenville by Ellenville police officials under a bench warrant to answer to a charge of second degree forgery and first degree grand larceny. He was remanded to jail and later released on bail.

Sound Advice — Don't Invest With Time Limit

Q—"I am a college student and have $1,200 which I wish to invest for one year. I want to realize a substantial capital gain by August, 1965. Do you think Texaco would be suitable for my purpose or would you recommend something else?"

A—"I can fully understand and sympathize with your desire. Nevertheless — not for the first time in this column—I am going to advise you very strongly not to invest with a time limit. No one can possibly say with confidence at what level any individual stock will sell one year hence. If it should happen to be down in price you might well suffer a loss of capital which you could ill afford."

I like Texaco, which has consistently shown rising earnings and dividends in recent years. Nevertheless, I would not buy it if I were forced to sell in a year's time.

Your money belongs in a savings institution, where your capital will be intact when you require it.

Q—"I have 125 shares of Lytle Corporation and I have not heard from this corporation for over a year. I wrote to them and received no answer. I realize the company may be out of business. If so, how can I declare my loss of $1,980 from my income tax? I realize that you seem able to secure information not generally known."

F. O.

A—"Thank you for the implied compliment. I do have very substantial files and am sometimes able to dig out information on lesser-known situations if they are not too obsolete."

I am very sorry to tell you that your Lytle Corporation is still in business but there is currently no bid for the shares, which are offered at ten cents.

I regret that I cannot give tax advice in this column. In your place, I would seek out a lawyer or accountant who can tell you how to declare your loss.

9 Anti-Castro Commandos Hit Russian Radar

PANAMA (AP) — Nine anti-Castro commandos have destroyed a Soviet-directed radar station on Cuba's southeastern coast, a Cuban exile leader said Monday night.

Manuel Artime announced his raiders struck from two torpedo boats and that all got away safely.

He said he didn't know whether any Russian or Cuban soldiers were killed during the raid early Sunday morning.

But, he declared: "We have shown that we can pull the tail of the Russians."

Artime said the radar station was defended by a garrison of 150 Cuban soldiers and three Soviet officers. The station was selected, he said, because it was used to detect Cubans fleeing their country by boat, especially those coming from Oriente and Camaguey provinces.

Artime asserted that once the refugees were spotted, speedy Soviet-built patrol boats were sent after them. He said the boats usually were commanded by a Russian and the refugees were always shot to death while crouching in their boats.

He said the radar station and a lighthouse were located on Cabo Cruz, at the western tip of the southern coast of Oriente Province.

Artime spoke at the home of a Cuban friend here in Panama. He said he was leaving Panama for his headquarters in the Caribbean, but declined to say where it is.

Artime, 35, was a leader of the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion of 1961.

Cooper Lake Now

out the month of August, with 68 tallied Monday. The reservoir was 8.2 feet below spillway level Friday, Aug. 28.

Ashokan Gatehouse reported .04 inches of rainfall yesterday. Schoharie Reservoir netted .64 inches the same day. Kingston City Engineer's office listed .97 inches of rainfall for the month. A half inch of rain fell on Kingston Monday.

Superintendent Cloonan noted that the last replenishing rains date back to April, and the city has been drawing on reserve supply during June, July and August.

About this same time seven years ago, Cooper Lake was 10.4 feet down. By October of that year it was some 17 feet below capacity crest and the city prepared to purchase water from New York City's Ashokan Reservoir.

Timely fall rains, however, precluded the need of tapping the Ashokan, although a pipeline had been laid to connect with a Zena reservoir.

A month ago the reserve was down an even five feet. It has dropped more than three feet since then. The Cooper Lake reserve was supplied by replenishing rains which fell last winter.

The city this year has fared better in drawing on the reserve than in the 1957 drought year because since then all service has been metered, and the drain on the supply has not been as heavy.

Chappaqua Man To Assume Post At Local Plant

The promotion of Glen D. Pirtle of 20 Alpine Lane, Chappaqua, to image processing manager planning manager has been announced by Maurice A. Every, manager of the IBM Data Systems Division development laboratory at Kingston.

Pirtle will be responsible for the combined planning and systems development functions for the image processing area. The objective of the image processing organization is to design and develop products capable of providing direct graphic input and output for data processing systems.

Joined Firm in 1959

Pirtle joined IBM in May, 1959 as an applied science representative in the Dallas, Tex., Branch Office. After advancing through the positions of senior applied science representative and senior systems engineer, he was promoted to field manager of systems engineering at the District Office in Dallas in August, 1961. One month later, he was named district manager of systems engineering at that location. He was named data processing manager at San Antonio, Tex., in July 1962.

In October, 1963, Pirtle transferred to Data Processing Division headquarters in White Plains as a product administrator, a post he has held until his present promotion.

He is a member of the Association for Computing Machinery. He received a bachelor's degree from East Central State College and a master's of science degree from Oklahoma State University.

Mr. Pirtle's wife Velma and children Linda, 15; Brenda, 7; and Glen Jr., 3; will reside in the Kingston area.

To succeed in the world, it is much more important to possess the penetration to discover who is a fool than to discover who is a clever man.

We can accustom ourselves to all we have; never to what we have no longer.

A witness was asked to tell what he found on the premises. Witness—Naught but barren nothingness, as Shakespeare says.

Court—Never mind what Shakespeare says! If he knows anything about this case he can be summoned!

A used car dealer in Tokyo exhibited this sign: "We pay highest prices for cars we buy. We get lowest prices for cars we sell. How we stay in business? We lucky."

Seeing a tramp hurrying away from a large house, a fellow professional asked him what luck he had. Tramp—Ain't no use askin' there, I just had a peep through the window. It's a poverty-stricken house. There was actually two ladies playin' on one planner.

Magistrate (to witness)—Why didn't you go to the aid of the defendant during the fight? Witness—I didn't know which was going to be the defendant.

We've never had it so good nor taken away from us so fast.

Lawyer (to actress bride)—But surely you don't want to arrange for a divorce on your honeymoon. When did you quarrel?

Bride—At the church—he signed his name in the register in bigger letters than mine.

Judge—Have you ever appeared as a witness before? Witness—Yes, your honor.

Judge—In what suit? Witness—M... the serge.

Nowadays one has to be very careful with political jokes, because many times political jokes get elected.

Woodstock CC Elects F. A. DeWitt President

Floyd A. DeWitt, the local Cadillac-Oldsmobile dealer, was elected president of Woodstock Country Club at the annual club meeting Saturday. He succeeds Joseph Fitzsimmons, who served as president for several years, and was named to the Board of Governors.

DeWitt, one of the top ranking players at Woodstock, served as vice president during the past year. He assumes the presidency immediately.

Other line officers elected were: Kenneth Charlton, vice president; Mike Mottolose, secretary; and Frank Benson, treasurer. Charlton, who served as secretary for several years, will be the new executive chairman.

Two New Governors

Two new governors were elected—Anthony Pizzarelli and Arnold Broggi. Re-elected were Fitzsimmons, Mottolose and Vincent Milora.

During the business meeting, past president A. J. de Liso presented the club with a portrait of Dave Reasoner, first president of the Woodstock Club and also a club champion. The portrait was painted by his daughter, Jean Reasoner Plunkett.

DeWitt is one of Woodstock's leading players and is particularly adept in match play. A lifelong General Motors dealer, DeWitt has been in Kingston since 1958. He has been a G-M car dealer for nearly 30 years and came here from Pawling in Dutchess county.

Mrs. DeWitt (Elizabeth) is also very active in Woodstock golf circles, having served on various committees in the women's division and with the Ulster County Women's Golf Association. The DeWitts reside in Zena.

Schatzel Single In 8th Inning Decides Contest

Gary Schatzel singled Gerry Corrado home with the winning run, as Knights of Columbus edged Hurley, 8-7, in extra innings for the 1964 Babe Ruth League championship Monday.

It was the second overtime game in the best-of-three series.

The Knights Jack Watzka permitted only four hits but eight walks and errors by his teammates accounted for the bulk of the Hurley runs.

Gerry Corrado, the Knights' leadoff batter, produced two key blows in the contest. The first—a base clearing double to right field—highlighted the Knights' six-run rally in the bottom of the fourth when they tied the score at 6-6.

Corrado led off with a single, to launch the winning rally in the bottom of the eighth. He then proceeded to steal second and third and rode home on Schatzel's clutch single.

Steal of Home

Don Cashdollar, the Kayce catcher, singled home two runs in the big fourth and later stole home with the tying marker.

Hurley tied the score at 7-7 in their last turn at bat in regulation time without the benefit of a basehit. They did it by the simple expedient of an error, stole base and wild pitch.

Watzka more than atoned for the wild pitch when he tripped to deep right center in the bottom of the sixth and scored the go-ahead run, 7-6, on Julius Chick's infield out. He added two singles in four times up. He fanned eight.

Alan Vogt and John Carter shared the Hurley pitching chores, with Carter getting tagged with the loss. Between them they permitted 10 hits.

The Knights qualified for the championship series by winning the National division pennant, while Hurley took the American division.

In Final Stretch Music World Wins

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP) — Music World grabbed a narrow victory Monday over Nobody Much in the closing stretch of the $1,200 feature race at Finger Lakes Race Track.

Nobody Much was disqualified, however, for interference with Insurance earlier in the race and was listed as a fourth-place finisher. Tuff Escapade and Insurance were credited with second and third place finishes respectively.

Music World covered the six furlongs in 1:16 and returned $22.40, $10.90 and $5.50.

A crowd of 3,107 wagered $196,777.

White Sox May Cut Back Their Pitching Staff

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Al Lopez is thinking of cutting his Chicago White Sox pitching staff, one of the deepest and strongest in the American League, to the peak of performance for the final pennant drive.

The target date is Labor Day after the Sox complete successive doubleheaders with Cleveland and Washington.

Beginning with a two-game series against Detroit Tuesday night, the Sox, trailing league-leading Baltimore by one-half game, play eight games through Labor Day. Then comes a period of 20 games in the final 27 days.

This average of three games every four days, with one doubleheader scheduled — and that in the final series of the season — gives Lopez the opportunity of starting only his three top pitchers in rotation to the end of the season.

This could mean that Lopez might go with Juan Pizarro, 17-7; Gary Peters, 15-7, and Joel Horlen, 10-8, almost exclusively, with knuckleballers Hoyt Wilhelm and Eddie Fisher manning the bullpen.

Earned-run averages of 2.14 for Pizarro, 2.52 for Peters and 2.19 for Horlen have offset some of the strongest slugging in the league.

"This is going to be a tough, nip-and-tuck race down to the very end," Lopez said Monday. "We have a lot of off days coming in comparison to Baltimore and New York. I'll manipulate my pitching accordingly."

"After Labor Day we have two off days each week and three off days the final week of the season. I certainly intend to use Pizarro and Peters in every series possible since they will be well rested."

Of Chicago's remaining 28 games, 19 are against Cleveland, Kansas City and Washington. Against this trio, the Sox have a combined 28-7 record this year.

Oliva Out in Front Of American Hitters

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Oliva, Minnesota's rookie sensation, is within striking distance of six American League records for first-year players.

Oliva, whose real first name is Pedro, continued his heavy hitting Monday, lashing a double and a single and scoring the winning run as the Twins edged Washington 2-1 in the only American League game scheduled.

In the only game on the National League program, Maury Wills and Wes Parker, who had one homer between them going into the game, each connected in support of Don Drysdale and powered the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 12-3 victory that snapped St. Louis winning streak at six games.

Oliva adopted his new first name in 1961 when he borrowed his brother Tony's passport to get out of Cuba. Since he's been with the Twins this year he's learned to adapt himself to American League pitching.

Leads Four Departments

The 24-year-old left-handed swinger currently leads the league in four departments — batting, hits, runs scored and doubles, while threatening a half-dozen rookie marks.

Here's the way Oliva and the record-holders compare:

Average — Oliva is hitting .332. Dale Alexander set the AL mark of .343 with Detroit in 1929.

Hits — Oliva has 184. Alexander holds the AL record with 215. The major league record — which may be out of reach — is 223 by Lloyd Waner of Pittsburgh in 1927.

Runs — Oliva has scored 99 times. Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees is the AL record-holder with 132 in 1936. Waner holds the major league record of 133.

Doubles — Oliva has 36. Roy Johnson slammed 45 for Detroit in 1929.

Homers — Oliva has 28. Jimmie Hall of the Twins set the AL record with 33 last season.

Total Bases — Oliva has 318. DiMaggio holds the AL record of 367 set in 1936.

Oliva scored what turned out to be the winning run against the Senators when he singled in the fourth inning and came around on a single by Don Mincher and Hall's double. Zoilo Versalles supplied the other run with a third-inning homer.

Jim Grant had a three-hit shutout going until the eighth when wildness put him in a jam. Two walks and Don Blasingame's single brought in a Washington run and a Minnesota reliever, Bill Pleis, Pleis struck out pinch hitter Fred Valentine to end the rally.

Pechloffs Post Record Score in Bridge Tourney

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pechloff of Kingston, a consistent winning combination, posted one of the three highest bridge games ever reported in the Hudson valley area, when they achieved a 77 per cent winning effort in the Glenelg Bridge Club's Fractional point tournament.

The Pechloffs' splendid performance placed them 24 per cent ahead of the runnerup team of Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell Edwards of Kingston, who had 53 per cent. Third spot went to Roy Wulff and John Levy of Kingston, 52 1/2 per cent; followed by Mrs. John Olivet and Miss Helen Olivet, Kingston, 51 1/2 per cent.

Another Fractional point game is scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock at the Bridge Studio on Fair Street.

er of the season and Parker's first, Drysdale brought his record to 15-13. He struck out 12 Cardinals for a season total of 201 — second only to the 223 fanned by teammate Sandy Koufax.

Drysdale also delivered a key hit as the Dodgers struck for five runs in the fourth inning and put the game out of reach. With two out in the inning, Drysdale tied the score 2-2 with a two-run single.

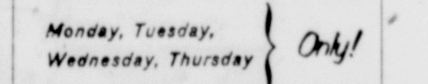

Wills then walked to load the bases and Dick Tracewski followed with a grounder to third on which Ken Boyer threw wild, enabling three runs to score.

Qualifying Test U. S. Amateur

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A Canadian golfer grabbed first place in the U.S. Golf Association amateur champion sectional qualifying round Monday at Wanakah Country Club golf course.

Eric Hanson of Etobicoke, Ont., shot a 36-hole, par 142 to lead five qualifiers in a field of 48 golfers.

Hanson had 68 for the first 18 and fired 74 on the closing 18 holes.

Donald Allen, New York State amateur golf champ, tied for second place with Jack Thornton. The two golfers, both of Rochester, had 145.

Another Rochester competitor, George Monahan Jr., fired 149 for fourth place.

Robert W. Andrews of Hornell captured fifth place in a one-hole playoff against Gerald M. Dimmick of Johnson City. Dimmick and Andrews each shot 150 in the qualifying round.

Pitching Looks Big In Last Month of Season

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

A bad arm. A strong back. A new face. And an old head.

They belong to four different pitchers, who represent the most important commodity as the major leagues head today into the last month of the season.

The bad arm belongs to Sandy Koufax, the ace left-hander of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who was advised by a doctor Monday not to pitch again this season.

The strong back belongs to Juan Marichal, the ace right-hander of the San Francisco Giants, who passed his physical and was pronounced fit to pitch again.

The new face belongs to Masanori Murakami, a left-handed relief specialist called up by the Giants, who will become the first native-born Japanese to play for an American major league team.

The old head belongs to Sad Sam Jones, a 38-year-old right-hander purchased by Baltimore to bolster its pitching staff in the American League pennant scramble.

Sandy Is Out

Koufax, the winningest pitcher in the majors with a 19-5 record and a 1.74 earned run average, underwent an examination on his inflamed left elbow in Los Angeles and was told not to attempt to pitch any more this season.

Albany Forfeits Final Contest

The Kingston Sport Club soccer team has captured the 1963-64 Central New York State Soccer Association championship without so much as kicking a ball.

The bizarre ending to the bitter campaign occurred Sunday when the powerful Albany Athletic Club forfeited the final playoff game to the locals at Albany.

The championship was the third straight for the Sport Club which completed the current phase of the schedule with 16 wins, 2 losses and a tie.

Sport Club and association officials were shocked by the development, in light of the intense rivalry between the teams over the years. The sad fact was, however, that the Albanyans were unable to field a team on their home ground.

Join New League
The Sport Club took one last, long look at the turbulent 1963-64 campaign and then announced that next year it would compete in the faster, professional American Soccer League, one of the best in the country.

Just what cities will compete in the American League will not be known until later this year, but franchises will operate in five different states. Although the American is essentially a professional league, Kingston will continue to play amateur players in an amateur status.

Kingston will also retain its franchise in the Central New York league and field a second team for that competition. The exact name of the squad will be announced later.

Between the two leagues, a weekly diet of soccer games is guaranteed at the Oehler Mountain Lodge field.

Hard Earned Victory
The KSC championship this season was a tribute to the managerial skills of Bob Graves and Tony Alexander. Among the obstacles to overcome were injuries, suspensions, replays and the lack of a regular goalie. The team's third consecutive championship was well earned.

Canadian Team Due

The Sport Club stages its annual international extravaganza Sunday when it hosts the crack Kitchener "Concordia Club" of Kitchener, Ontario, Canada. The locals edged the Canadians, 3-2, in a sensational contest last year.

Team captain George Vizvary will be back in action Sunday, after missing several games because of a broken hand. Two other regulars—Alex Dirks and Tony Fitzharris—will not be available. Dirks is hobbled by an injury and Fitzharris is lost indefinitely with cartilage trouble.

The Sport Club's second team plays Hoboken, N. J., in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader at 2 p. m.

Triller-Thayer Win Open Pair

One of the Hudson valley's most experienced pairs — Mrs. Eleanor Triller of Poughkeepsie and Harry Thayer of Kingston—won the first annual Open Pair championship of the Saugerties Bridge Club with an excellent 68 per cent game.

Runnersup were Dr. and Mrs. Rodney Ball of Saugerties with 62 per cent. Dr. John Roberts of Kingston and Arling Kalleberg, Hurley, placed third with 60 per cent.

Other leading scores were: Mrs. John Carnright-Mrs. Harold Baumgartner, Saugerties, 58 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ellis, Saugerties, 59 per cent; Milton Dubin-Stanley Kaplan, Kingston, 57 per cent.

Trophies will be presented to Mrs. Triller and Thayer at the next scheduled match at 7:45 p. m., Monday, Sept. 14. The game will be held at the regular meeting place of the Saugerties Bridge Club in the basement room of the Saugerties Savings Bank on Market Street in Saugerties.

State Harness Racing Results

By The Associated Press

Meadow Don came from far back in the stretch drive and took the $7,000 Invitational Pace at Roosevelt Raceway Monday night. Rendezvous Truder was second, 1½ lengths behind, and Sweet Singer was third.

Meadow Don stepped the mile in 2:01 1-5 and returned $10.60. At other harness tracks in New York State:

Saratoga Raceway — Spunky Sue ($6.90) won the first division of the $3,000 Northern Trot for 2-year-olds by 6½ lengths. Clever Beth was second and Shadydale Mighty showed. The winning time was 2:16 2-5 on a slow track.

Vernon Downs — Sycamore Boy ($12.40) came out of fourth in the stretch for a 1¼-length decision in the $1,200 conditioned pace. Kappa Delta placed and Deep Run Byrd was third. The winning time was 2:03 1-5.

Aussies Prepare For Challenge
BAASTAD, Sweden (AP) — Having eliminated the rest of the field, the Australian Davis Cup squad now can concentrate on regaining the Cup from the U.S. team in the Challenge Round in Cleveland, Sept. 25-27.

Coach Harry Hopman's Aussie team completed a 5-0 sweep of Sweden in the interzone final Monday when Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle won their singles matches.

Pat Patterson Scores Double In Accord Speedway Features

Pat Patterson scored a double victory at Accord Speedway, winning the postponed Sportsman's feature and the regular 25-lap stock car race that followed.

Chasing Patterson across the line in the postponed feature were Ernie Beesmer of Olive Bridge, Lee Cole, John Van Leuvan and Harold Montanye. After that stint, Patterson did it all over again, winning the 25-lapper by a comfortable margin over Stretch Van Steenberg of Saugerties.

The wins were the third in three days for Patterson, who captured the feature Friday night at Tri-Valley Speedway. He also took the first heat for Sportsmen. Harold Montanye was a heat winner and Pete Keator grabbed the consolation at Tri-Valley.

Santosky in Sweep
Ron Santosky made a clean sweep of the sedan division, winning the reverse start of both weeks and this week's feature.

Because of the Labor Day "200" race on Monday, there will be no racing Sunday at Accord. The gates will open 11:30 a. m.

Monday with time trials at 1 p. m.

In addition to the special 200 lap raised purse race, there will be a full card of sedan races.

The summaries:
Sedan Feature—Ron Santosky, Rosendale; Pat Daleone, Mahopac; Jim Glass, West Hurley; Stan Effner, Kingston; Jack Otis, Kingston.

Reverse Start—Ron Santosky, Rosendale; Pat Daleone, Mahopac; Jim Glass, West Hurley; Bob Chase, Kingston.

Palmer Leads Money Winners
DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer has been coming in second for the fat purses on professional golf's tournament trail recently.

He has played in 22 tournaments and has won only two, but is on top of the list of the 10 leading money winners with $110,743, the Professional Golfers Association said Monday.

Jack Nicklaus dropped to second place at $101,917. Tony Lema was third with $72,555.

S. Van Wagenen, Mrs. Charlton In WCC Finals

Mrs. Kenneth Charlton and Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen will vie for the Woodstock Country Club's women's title at 27 holes match play on Sept. 5.

Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Lizio, who won the title the past several years, did not compete in the 1964 event.

Enroute to the finals, Mrs. Van Wagenen defeated Mrs. Alex Sharpe Jr., 2 up, and won over Mrs. John Sullivan in the quarter finals. Mrs. Charlton beat Mrs. William McGrath, 1 up, in the semi-finals, after eliminating Mrs. S. Goldmuntz in quarter final play.

Finalists in the beaten Eight of the championship flight are Mrs. Thomas H. Dendy and Mrs. Arnold Broggi. Mrs. Dendy won from Mrs. Lambert Dean and Mrs. Betty Schwarz, while Mrs. Broggi eliminated Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons and Mrs. Charles Hummel in quarter final and semi-final action.

Mrs. E. Gormley defeated Mrs. Floyd De Witt for Second Flight honors.

Hulbert Takes First Feature Event at Onteora Speedway

Mert Hulbert abandoned his runnerup role and crashed the charmed circle for the first time at Onteora Speedway.

Stan Wetmore, Clyde Smith, Don Avery and Fred Searing, who trailed in that order, made several passes at Hulbert but the popular gas jockey held firm to lead most of the way.

Ron Santosky had a hard time in the sedan feature but finally edged Don Hoose, Lou Montanye, Jim Glass and Bill Seism, who followed in line.

The heat results:
First heat — Hulbert, Lou Searing, Don Gardner, Clyde Smith.

Second heat — Nissen, Fred Searing, Wetmore, Anderson.

Consolation — Keator, Penning, Alexander, Ferbush; Sedans — Ron Santosky, Del Lyons, Jim Glass, Jack Otis.

Labor Day Plans
Plans have been completed by Onteora officials for the big Labor Day weekend doubleheader. Stock car races go on as usual Saturday, followed by Demolition Derby Sunday, with a $1,000 prize tag.

Hundreds of cars are entered for this event, with applications still pouring in and Promoter Ed Ryan is now faced with the problem of where to place those acres of cars. Fans are advised to come early as this Eastern championship demolition event is a guaranteed sellout.

To Decide Site For All-American Bowl Grid Game

ATLANTA (AP) — Athletic Director Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech says a decision may be made by Sept. 16 on whether Tech's Grant Field will be used as the new site for the All-American Bowl football game.

Approval is needed from the university system board of regents and the Georgia Tech athletic board before transfer of the game from its Buffalo, N.Y., home to Tech's stadium can be arranged.

Dodd estimated that the game would draw between 35,000 and 50,000 spectators at Grant Field. In the four years of its existence at Buffalo, the game has been drawing only about 20,000.

"Honest beer."

When Michael Piel came over from Germany in 1884, he had some pretty firm ideas about how beer ought to be made.

For one thing, he didn't think it was easy. Making his kind of beer was a job that required all a man's brains and no fooling around. He was, without a doubt, a hard man to work for.

But his men liked working for him. His pride was contagious and they caught it.

When Michael talked about the Brewery he talked about "honest men making good beer the way they believe it ought to be made."

He saw his beer as "honest beer."

← This seal means a great beer every time.

For 80 years there have been no secrets in the Piel's brewing process. Just honest men making good beer the way they believe it ought to be made.

"You've got to watch each batch like a hawk," says Piel's Brewmaster. "Too soon, you get green beer. Too late, flat beer."

Piel's is beer caught at its peak. That's what Piel's Peak Flavor Seal is all about.

Look for this seal and the Brewmaster's registry number on every bottle and can of Piel's. Not an ounce goes out without the Brewmaster giving the word.
